New Phone Hike Bid

'Come Out Fighting' Says Mayor

B.C. Telephone Company has applied to the Board of Transport Commissioners for a 17.6 per cent increase in exchange service rates, and an average 5.1 per cent increase in long distance rates.

The company claims the increase is needed to provide the revenue required for a payment of income taxes in full each year, instead of on a deferred basis.

It will mean a boost of from 50 to 85 cents per month on phone bills for homes in the Victoria area.

The application is the latest move in the complicated discussion between the federal government and certain utilities over how income taxes should be handled in determining rates.

UP 12.6 PER CENT

The requested rates would increase the total annual revenues of the company by $5,754,000, or 12.6 per cent.

A heated protest against the rate increase was voiced today by Mayor Percy Scurrell, who said he was "amazed" to learn that the B.C. Telephone was asking for the increase.

"You sure can expect the city will come out fighting," he said. The mayor said he will call a meeting of the Greater Victoria Inter-municipal Committee to discuss a joint protest.

Only in July the board authorized the company to increase its exchange and long-distance rates by an average of 2.94 per cent.

NOVEMBER HEARING

It has announced that a public hearing will be held in Vancouver Nov. 17 to discuss the new application.

The increase would be used largely for payment of income taxes, but also would cover the effect of a full year's wage increases.

Following are examples of present and proposed monthly rates for the Greater Victoria area, with present rates in brackets.

VICTORIA—Residence: Individual (4.65) 5.50, two-party (3.70) 4.30, multi-party (3.20) 3.70. Business: Individual (10.00) 13.30, measured (6.35) 8.00, multi-party (5.60) 7.45.

SOOKE—Residence: Individual (3.40) 3.90, two-party (2.70) 3.05, multi-party (2.30) 2.65. Business: Individual (5.60) 7.15, multi-party (3.80) 4.70.

SIDNEY—Residence: Individual (3.55) 4.15, two-party (2.80) 3.25, multi-party (2.40) 2.80. Business: Individual (6.00) 7.95, multi-party (3.80) 5.00.

KEATING AND COBBLE HILL—Residence: Individual (3.40) 3.90, two-party (2.70) 3.05, multi-party (2.30) 2.65. Business: Individual (5.60) 7.15, multi-party (3.80) 4.70.

The Income Tax Act permits a utility company to defer temporarily payment of part of its taxes, which enables it to use this money for capital purposes. However, the cabinet ruled this year that any revenues set aside by a company to cover payment of the deferred income taxes later on could not be considered as an expense for rate-making purposes.

This applies to only those companies coming under the jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners. The B.C. Telephone Company and the B.C. Electric Company, which are subject to this ruling.

NOT INCLUDED

Companies under other regulatory bodies, such as the Public Utilities Commission of British Columbia, are not subject to this ruling, and the full amount of income tax, including the amount set aside for future payment, is allowed as a cost for rate-making purposes.

ESCAPE ROUTE FROM KILLER

Broken line shows staggered path taken by beating victim Mrs. Phyllis Mudge, 28, after escaping a killer at her home, 3460 Metchosin, Saturday night. She went through fence after breaking boards to gain safety of Mr.

and Mrs. William Neil's home. Cross to left indicates larger gap in fence made by Mr. Neil when police, reporters and photographers began trooping to the house. — (Times photo.)

NEIGHBORS' EYEWITNESS ACCOUNTS:

Bleeding Woman Tore Through Fence Boards

By DAVID COWLISHAW and TONY DICKASON

Angry horror still showing plainly on her face, 70-year-old Mrs. Mary McQueen Neil placed her coffee cup on the table, walked across the room and stood staring out on the grounds at back of the home of Charles Mudge at 3460 Metchosin Road, Colwood.

"See that broken railing," she said, pointing to a five-foot high fence that had been shattered at the top and now leaned crazily to one side. "That's where she stumbled last night. The poor thing, she must have been confused. She must have been out of her mind with fear."

It was into the Neil home immediately behind the red-roofed white Mudge house that Mr. Mudge's 28-year-old wife Phyllis staggered at 8.40 p.m. Saturday.

Unclothed save for an old striped housecoat, she ran the 75 yards separating the two houses after escaping from the person who stripped her while unconscious, after her husband and father had been killed.

Mrs. Neil and her 70-year-old husband, retired butcher William, were watching the Perry Como Show on television when there was a noise at the back door.

"It sounded like a drunk or a bunch of kids," Mrs. Neil said. "Then when she tumbled into the room and sat in a chair I thought she had been in a car smash on the road."

"We didn't recognize her at first. There were cuts all over her face and on top of her head, two black eyes and a gash on the forehead. She said, 'Lock the door and put the lights out. He's gone mad and killed Chuck and my Dad.' Then we knew it was Phyllis Mudge."

The Neils phoned Colwood RCMP, then gave Mrs. Mudge whisky and tea.

Police believe the assailant left Mrs. Mudge at the bottom of the basement steps while he went back into the house to turn off the bedroom lights where the assault had taken place. That's when she escaped, bolting through the basement outside door toward the Neil home.

Mrs. Joan Harvie, 65-year-old wife of a Victoria commissionaire, 3314 Metchosin, was visiting her friends the Neils when Mrs. Mudge stumbled into the house.

"There was a noise. It sounded like a whimper. Then this poor thing came in. I thought she was wearing a mask, there was so much red on her face."

"I thought it was paint, but it must have been blood, I suppose. I hadn't the slightest idea who she was until she told us about the killings. She said 'he' had beaten her up. It was dreadful."

Mrs. Neil said, "She must have grabbed the coat, got up and run for our place."

He added that he heard a shot about 5 p.m. but "I didn't think much about it because the Victoria Gun Club isn't very far

'Nigger-Hunt' Youths Jailed 4 Years in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Nine youths who set out on a "nigger-hunting expedition" which touched off the recent racial riots in London were each sentenced to four years in prison here today.

Passing sentence the judge at Old Bailey court said: "It was you men who started the whole of this violence."

The youths, aged between 17 and 20, each pleaded guilty to wounding and assaulting Negroes. They were alleged to have attacked five men during what one of the youths described as a "nigger-hunting expedition."

The prosecution said this was "the very beginning" of the riots which swept the northwest London area two weeks ago.

Mr. Justice Sir Cyril Salmon told the accused: "You are a minute and insignificant section of the population but you have brought shame upon the district in which you live and you have filled the whole nation with horror, indignation and disgust."

"Everyone irrespective of the color of their skin is entitled to walk through our streets in peace with their heads erect and free from fear. That is a right which these courts will always unfailingly uphold."

Evidence was given that the prisoners attacked Negroes with iron bars, a car crank, table legs and a knife.

Well, th' Tories picked their leader. Now, if they kin' jist keep from pickin' him apart...

There ain't no horses at th' Ottawa trade conference, but y' kin bet there'll be some horse tradin'.

Looks like them extra two dalin' letters are goin' t' be expensive.

RECENT SNA'SHOT of murdered man, Charles Mudge, and his wife Phyllis, shows them in holiday mood. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Mudge was beaten, her husband and father shot dead by an assailant at their home.

40 KILLED

Train Plunges From Bridge

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — A Jersey Central commuter train roared through an open drawbridge today and plunged 50 feet into Newark Bay. Railway officials estimated at least 40 persons died. Twenty-one others were reported injured.

The five-car train had started from Bay Head, a north New Jersey shore resort, and was headed for Jersey City, where passengers board ferries for downtown New York.

Its two diesel locomotives and first two passenger cars fell from the open span and were immediately submerged in more than 40 feet of oily water.

A third car was left hanging dizzily, half in the water and half out. But 2½ hours later, it, too, slipped completely beneath the surface.

The estimate of 40 dead came from W. A. Nickel, assistant general manager of the railway.

BODIES RECOVERED

By early afternoon, 13 bodies were recovered, mostly by skin divers.

One man was recovered alive from the murky bay but was dead on arrival at Bayonne hospital.

The first passenger coach was empty—a "deadhead." In all, the train was believed to be carrying 90 to 100 passengers.

The entire bridge is about 1½ miles long and spans the main channel of Newark Bay between southwestern Staten Island and New Jersey.

The raised drawbridge section is a horizontal span about 200 feet long. It had been opened this morning to allow a sand barge to pass below.

Woman Flees After Brutal Battering

By AB KENT

A 16-year-old boy befriended by a highly-respected Metchosin family was charged with murder today in the vicious slaying of two of them.

Dead are Charles Mudge, 38, and his father-in-law John Brand, 70.

Mrs. Mudge, attractive 28-year-old wife of Charles, is in St. Joseph's Hospital in "good" condition, after being brutally assaulted.

The boy, a ward of the Children's Aid Society who had lived with the Mudies and Brand for four months, was arrested by RCMP after Mr. Mudge's truck he was driving crashed off the Renfrew Road behind Shawnigan Lake on Sunday afternoon.

Under provisions of the Criminal Code governing juveniles the name of the boy has not been made public.

Mr. Mudge, paymaster at Yarrows shipyard, and Mr. Brand apparently were stalked at their home at 3460 Metchosin Road.

Mrs. Mudge, escaped from the blood-spattered house several hours after the shooting.

The youth is under police guard at DVA Hospital where he was taken dazed and bleeding from head and neck cuts received when the truck he drove off the Port Renfrew Road when he saw a police car approaching, overturned. Police said he was "fairly good" today.

It was among the most shocking crimes remembered in this area.

The secluded, pleasant white home was turned into a scene of carnage as if by a crazed person.

The murders brought to three the total slayings in Greater Victoria in a week's time, and to four the number in Victoria-Gulf Islands area since Aug. 10.

Naval seaman Aaron H. Jenkins, 23, of Codys, N.B., was stabbed to death in his bunk at HMCS Naden last Saturday and Albert Kerr, 56, North Pender Island, was shot to death in his home Aug. 10.

The Metchosin killings are believed to have happened about 2 p.m. Saturday, but were not brought to light until Mrs. Mudge, wearing only a coat, her eyes blackened, badly bruised, and face caked with blood from a gash on the top of her head, stumbled into the living room of neighbors at 8.40 p.m.

She gasped out to Mr. and Mrs. William Neil and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Harvie, that her husband and father had been shot dead and pleaded with them to turn out their house lights and lock the doors for protection.

They called Colwood RCMP, who were on the scene within minutes to start an investigation which lasted through the night and most of Sunday.

Before an ambulance arrived for Mrs. Mudge, who was near hysterics, she related parts of the story of what had happened.

'HAD GOOD LOOK' Hunters Chase Wanted Truck Until Crash

By MONTE ROBERTS

Two Victoria hunters with their eyes alert for deer on Sunday found, instead, the pickup truck sought by police in connection with the double-killing at Metchosin Saturday.

Nick Sawchuk, owner of Capital Cleaners, and George Simpson, machinist at HMC Dockyard, were driving east from Port Renfrew toward Shawnigan Lake shortly after noon when they heard a description of the truck on the car radio.

Said Mr. Sawchuk today: "It seemed only a few minutes before we rounded a long curve and there, ahead of us, was a truck."

"It was not going very fast, and we approached and passed it."

"We checked the licence number."

the rear of the Mudge home on the same five-acre lot.

DETAILS VAUVE

Exactly what occurred Saturday afternoon and evening was not fully reconstructed by police because of Mrs. Mudge's condition and the fact she is believed to have been unconscious much of the time.

It was thought Mrs. Mudge was the first to be attacked. She was in the kitchen of her home and her father was watching television in the living room.

They had been shopping and her husband and the 16-year-old had returned from a morning bird-hunting trip.

PICKING TOMATOES

Police said Mrs. Mudge told them her husband went outside to pick some tomatoes and was going to help her can them when she was ready.

She was reported to have said she would call Mr. Mudge when she was finished working in the kitchen. She told police she was putting away groceries, but police said the groceries were still sitting out in the kitchen when they investigated.

Police suggested she may have been washing dishes. Something happened; she did not know what.

HIT OVER HEAD

Apparently she was struck over the head with a bottle. There was a broken milk bottle scattered around the sink area and other bottle fragments in the kitchen.

The next thing Mrs. Mudge knew she was being dragged naked down the basement steps, police said.

She heard her husband groan, police said, and turned to look toward the ground-level basement entrance where she saw her husband lying on his side with one arm outstretched.

ALREADY DEAD

At that time, police believe, Mr. Mudge had been shot and Mr. Brand was already dead. Whether the husband's other injuries, apparently from a severe beating about the head with a heavy instrument, were already inflicted was not determined.

When found by police at 8:50 p.m., Mr. Mudge appeared to have been dead for a considerable time.

He lay in a pool of drying blood and more blood was found on a concrete apron where his station wagon was parked just outside the basement door.

Some blood had run into a drain grating and more was over the basement door sill as though the killer had dragged Mr. Mudge inside after the shooting.

ON KNEES

A rifle bullet entered his chest below the left shoulder, as if he may have been on his knees when shot. His head was battered. A carpenter's claw bar was found nearby.

Mr. Brand was found sitting on a chestfield a little distance from the wall in the living room, facing the television set. The doorway was over his right shoulder and a little to the side.

He was shot in the head as if the killer stood in the doorway and fired from behind him.

Most of the house bore evidence of violence. Insp. G. A. Gerrie, officer commanding Victoria RCMP subdivision, commented:

"You could pretty well say the whole house with the exception of the living room and dining room was blood-smeared."

It appeared a struggle had taken place in the front bedroom. Police found there a water basin, suggesting the attacker had planned to clean up some of the bloodstains.

PHONE TORN OUT

The telephone had been torn from its connection. Several items of women's clothing, including a housecoat, shoes and purse, were picked up and held by police.

Mrs. Mudge told police her attacker was planning to take her away with him in her husband's dark blue, half-ton pickup truck.

When her assailant went back up the basement stairs to turn off the house lights she made her escape toward the Neil house wearing an old coat.

CRAWL TO DOOR

She stumbled the 50 to 75 yards through a coral-type fence, then desperately broke off one board and part of another on a second fence before crawling through to her neighbor's front door.

The Neils said she was hysterical and unrecognizable at first because of her swollen, blood-caked features.

They said Mrs. Mudge told them her attacker drove off in the truck, apparently not knowing which way Mrs. Mudge had run for help.

Road blocks were set up at all key points on Vancouver Island Saturday night and were maintained until the pickup was made at about 1 p.m. Sunday 18 miles west of Shawnigan Lake on the road to Port Renfrew.

The truck was spotted driving slowly east and was overtaken by a car containing hunters Nick Sawchuk and George Simpson of Victoria, who heard a description of the fugitive truck on a radio broadcast.

TOOK LICENCE

They took its licence number and the truck speeded up to pass them when an RCMP patrol was encountered.

Members of Duncan RCMP detachment were in the car and were watching for the truck on a tip from a man at Port Renfrew who said he saw a similar vehicle driven by a boy Sunday noon.

The truck shot off the road and overturned.

Its 16-year-old occupant, who carried a knife, was brought immediately to Colwood detachment, arriving about 2:30.

When the police car drew up to the rear door of the detachment, the boy sat in the back seat, his head sagging. He seemed to be in a stupor and had to be told to get out of the car.

SHOCKING SIGHT

When he slowly stepped out and straightened a little, he was a shocking sight.

Blood had coursed down his face, neck and shirt from the top of his wild, tousled hair. Dirt and more blood covered his hands and arms. There was a short cut on his face and bloodstains on his faded, old blue jeans.

The boy apparently wore the same clothes he had worn the night before; they matched a description given to all police departments shortly after 9 p.m. Besides shoes, his only other outer clothing was a faded red and grey tartan shirt.

RCMP GUARD

After a few minutes the boy was taken in the same police car to DVA Hospital, where he was admitted. A uniformed RCMP guard was left with him.

During the trip in from the scene of the crash the boy had said nothing except in answer to the police question, "How are you making out?" There was no other conversation, an officer said.

Identification experts from Victoria subdivision began going through the Mudge house in search of evidence Saturday night and continued Sunday afternoon and this morning.

HOUSE CLOSED

The house meanwhile was closed and an RCMP guard placed on it and the property. The general investigation was carried on through the night and police officers who had gone on duty Saturday morning were still working Sunday evening.

One of the items turned up by a search of the grounds Sunday was what appeared to be a flattened lead bullet, lying in grass near a grove of evergreens several feet from the rear basement door.

The 16-year-old, described as a polite boy who loved to walk in the woods, hunt and fish, owned four rifles and a shotgun, all of which were accounted for in his basement room.

There were apparently no other firearms in the house. An RCMP tracking dog was brought to Colwood from Burnaby by Cpl. Ian Hall and kept standing ready in case a search of the bush was organized by police.

The teen-age boy was described by those who were acquainted with him as a quiet boy.

'NICE KID'

"I took him to school every day last term and he was as nice a kid as I've ever seen," said J. A. Sjöberg, 3483 Metchoshin, directly opposite the Mudge house.

"He was polite . . . a hard worker. He was always working around there."

"I was out all afternoon until six o'clock Saturday, but my wife and kids were home. They heard nothing."

"The first we heard was when a neighbor came over and told us this (Sunday) morning. "He was quite a smart boy. I thought he was a darn nice kid."

A 16-year-old school acquaintance—a member of the same grade 10 class he attended at school—said "I used to live with him."

The friend said his mother and father kept him for three weeks until Mr. and Mrs. Mudge moved into the Metchoshin Road house.

"He used to go down there to work everyday when he lived at our place," the boy said.

He said the boy told him Friday at school he planned to go hunting Sunday. He described the boy as "friendly with everybody" and likeable.

Mudge was described today as a "good worker and a reliable one" by his employer.

John Wallace, general manager of Yarrow's shipyard, said Mr. Mudge had been with the company 10 years.

"He started as timekeeper and worked his way up," Mr. Wallace told The Times.

ber, and it was the one sent out by the police.

"We passed the truck very slowly, and had a good look, and then, when we were ahead, we stopped the car."

DRIVER SCARED

"I guess the driver of the truck became scared. He apparently hit the gas pedal with a heavy foot, and shot past going at least 60 miles an hour. We took out after him."

"I'll admit I was nervous. I don't know about George, but I thought about a kid with a gun. But then, we were hunting, and we had guns, too."

"We tore along the road for a short time when suddenly, coming from the other direction, we saw an RCMP patrol car."

OUT OF CONTROL

"The truck driver must have seen it, too. I guess he panicked. He took to the ditch, on the left hand side of the road, and the truck went out of control."

"It must have bounced 100 feet through the air. It banged against a pile of logs."

"We stopped the car and ran to the truck, with two RCMP officers from the patrol car."

"The young driver was inside. He was cut and bleeding. He had a gash across his throat. He must have hit the windshield. We had to pry open the door to get him out."

"He was semi-conscious. But he was able to walk to the RCMP car."

BLOODY KNIFE

"The back seat of the patrol car was filled with hunting signs. The officers must have been on hunting patrol duty. We moved the signs into our car to take them to the detachment headquarters, so there would be room in the car for the young man."

"He was slightly built. He had on a pair of khaki trousers over a pair of blue jeans."

"I did not see a gun in the car, but there was a hunting knife. It had blood on it. I understand the RCMP are having the blood analyzed."

and Bell Telephone Company contend that they must provide for the future liability which results from deferring the payment of a portion of the taxes. Otherwise their ability to raise new capital for expansion and improvement would be seriously endangered, officials said.

Unable to get increased rates, on the basis of tax deferral, the Bell Company has now filed a new application for increased rates to enable it to pay its taxes in full each year, in which case no liability is created. The B.C. Telephone Company has now followed suit.

enthusiasm," he said, urging that the conference keynote be "an expanding Commonwealth as a dynamic partnership in an expanding world community."

But as the first plenary session of the biggest Commonwealth economic meeting in a quarter-century opened, there were many indications that both Canada and Britain would have no easy time of it. The two countries were considered among the Commonwealth's wealthiest members. Low-income earners were looking to them for assurances and help.

New Zealand, which relies heavily on her dairy exports, launched an indirect attack against Canada's dairy import embargoes, warning that curbs against Canadian exports may result.

FARMERS SUFFERING

"Agricultural protectionism has severely damaged New Zealand," said Finance Minister A. H. Nordmeyer. "It has depressed the income of our farmers. It has deprived New Zealand of many millions of pounds which she requires to buy her imports."

Spokesman after spokesman told of how economic recession had depressed prices of their main products, in most cases raw materials absorbed by the wealthier buyers inside and outside the Commonwealth. They urged that price agreements be developed, to assure producers of steady markets.

"We are living under a shadow of a recession," said Sir Henry Lee, Malaysia's finance minister. "For us the central issues are revival of demand in commodity trade, stabilization of internal income and export earnings from that trade and attraction of development capital from abroad."

For India, the most critical need was capital, loans and grants. Said Mr. Desai:

"For India and for the newly independent members of the Commonwealth, the raising of living standards of the people, diversification of their economies and attainment of higher levels of production and employment are crucial."

West Indies' Dr. C. G. D. La Corthiere, deputy prime minister, said the Federation wants "more and steadier markets for its produce, more capital for development, more trade, particularly with members of the Commonwealth—in sum, opportunity for earnings and for paying our way."

Ceylon's Finance Minister Stanley de Zoysa said the conference, even if it produces no concrete results, may provide a lesson for the big powers in handling problems with understanding.

"We shall have shown the way to the nations of the world playing precariously with problems which must lead to the ultimate questions—will man in the end destroy mankind or rise to the full stature that his Maker intended him to rise to . . . ?"

Formation of a Commonwealth development bank was recommended by Ghana.

Finance Minister K. A. Gbedemah said he hopes delegates will devote "considerable attention" to creating a Commonwealth bank.

Such an institution would fill a great gap in the facilities available to underdeveloped countries.

U.S. Envoy Hopeful Of Talks with China

WARSAW (Reuters) — U.S. Ambassador Jacob D. Beam and Communist China envoy Wang Ping-nan met today to discuss the Formosa Straits crisis.

Beam told reporters "I hope the discussions will lead to constructive results."

As they met to trade words, the Chinese Communists and Nationalists traded shells in the Formosa Strait.

Heartened by their first success in piercing the Communist artillery curtain around Quemoy, the Nationalists assembled another convoy to supply the besieged island fortress.

The Nationalists announced the first sizeable amounts of supplies in a week got through to the Quemoy Islands Sunday by sea and air with U.S. escorts. U.S. and Nationalist spokesmen announced American Air Force planes flew protective cover for the Quemoy supply operations.

PARACHUTE SUPPLIES

Nationalist transports also parachuted supplies to the island complex, nesting near the mainland for the first time since the Communists tightened their blockade early this month.

The Nationalists also stepped up their propaganda war against the Peiping government. The Nationalist air force said its planes dropped millions of leaflets on the mainland Sunday in 12 provinces, including Hopei where the Communist capital of Peiping is located.

Communist China in turn issued a charge that President Eisenhower's Formosa policy amounts to a "thundering bluff."

The official Communist newspaper, the Peiping People's Daily declared that Eisenhower's "thundering" over the Formosa crisis was aimed at bluffing his own people and his allies.

In an editorial replying to the president's speech to the nation last Thursday, the newspaper said American "provocations" in the Formosa Strait created an extremely dangerous situation.

Peiping radio reported Sunday that tens of millions of newly enlisted militiamen are under active drilling all over Red China.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru said that a war over the Chinese offshore islands would be "totally indefensible."

Referring to India's policy that Formosa and the offshore islands should pass under the control of the Peiping government, Nehru told the House of the People (lower house of Parliament): "We have always said and hoped that this change would take place peacefully."

The present occupation of the islands by the Chinese Nationalists was an "intolerable position," he added.

Britain today officially rejected Red China's action extending her territorial waters to 12 miles as invalid.

The British rejection was contained in a note delivered to the Peiping government Saturday, a foreign office spokesman said.

SLAYING VICTIM Charles Mudge, 38, once played with his border collie, Teddie, as inset shows. Most of Sunday, after Saturday killing of Mudge and father-in-law John Brand, 70, Teddie lay crouched under his master's station wagon at the rear of the Metchosin road home. — (Times photo.)

END OF HUNT came when pickup truck driven by suspect crashed on rugged Renfrew Road Sunday afternoon after being spotted by two hunters. Above, tow chain is hooked on by Bob Kerr, Shawnigan Garage.

MOTHER SAYS HE WAS 'QUIET BOY'

'I Don't Believe It'

"I don't believe he did this thing. He must have been kidnapped by somebody else who did it." With these words the mother of the boy taken into custody in connection with the Mudge-Brand killings began a telephone conversation with The Times from her Salt Spring Island home Sunday. "How could he have done it? He's a quiet boy." BROKEN HOME The mother, 48 years old, said her son was one of three children of a broken home. Another son was recently placed in a foster home at Machin, a 15-year-old daughter lives at home with her mother. "He must have been kidnapped," the mother repeated. "I know he's not the sort of boy to do a thing like this. He was very good at school. He couldn't have done it. No, somebody else did and tried to make it look like my son did it." She paused, then: "Yes, he was kidnapped. You go and tell the police that," and she put the receiver down.

BEATEN WOMAN 'PROGRESSING'

Mrs. Mudge was visited at Royal Jubilee Hospital this morning by David Monk, whose wife is the late Mr. Mudge's sister. Mr. Monk said Mrs. Mudge seemed to be progressing favorably, but her head was badly swollen, and she was suffering from stiffness, soreness, cuts and bruises. He said there was no sign of internal injuries.

FRANCE, GERMANY MAKE UP

Traditional Foes Friends 'Forever'

PARIS (Reuters) — Generations of hostility between France and Germany are, say the two "strong men" of Western Europe, finished "once and for all." This emphatic declaration emerged Sunday night at the end of an informal day of talks between French Premier Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

MYSTERY VOICE OF MOSCOW AT BALL GAME

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP) — The public address system was turned on for a women's fast-ball game — and out came the voice of Radio Moscow. For the three-hour length of the game, Moscow continued to treat the fans to comment on economic life in Canada, Britain and the United States, music and discussion of youth in Russia — in English. The address system has no receiver and no antennae. Puzzled technicians could only conclude that the microphone cable in some unexplained way was acting as an antennae to pluck the voice of Moscow out of the ether.

The two men, meeting for the first time, spent several hours together discussing world problems at de Gaulle's country home, 150 miles east of Paris. Usually well-informed sources said the talks were chiefly concerned with the future development of European unity and the relations of France and Germany with other countries, principally Britain, not included in the European economic community.

'SIDE BY SIDE'

Their joint statement said they were "extremely satisfied" with the talks and said that from now on "Frenchmen and Germans are called to live in agreement and work side by side."

Assassins' Fire Misses

PARIS (AP) — Algerian assassins tried to kill French Information Minister Jacques Soustelle with tommy guns in the heart of Paris today but missed him. Soustelle, a former governor-general of Algeria, was cut above the eyes and under his chin by glass shattered in bursts of gunfire at his car. One bullet whizzed through his coat as he dived to the floor.

In the blistering gunfight that followed one Algerian was killed and another wounded. Stray bullets killed a French subway worker and wounded three more. The shooting occurred near the Arch of Triumph as passersby raced for cover.

Next to Premier de Gaulle himself, Soustelle is the biggest government figure the Algerian nationalists could attack in France to underscore their determination to win independence for that vast North African territory.

Soustelle sits at de Gaulle's right hand in the French cabinet. The assassination attempt came during a wave of Nationalist terrorism in France. Algerian gunmen have attacked policemen, sabotaged oil refineries and threatened worse to come.

The Tory Opportunity

THE CONSERVATIVES HAVE concluded a highly successful convention at Vancouver and have returned Deane Finlayson—quite properly, we think—as their provincial leader. Two good men ran for the office, and Finlayson won by a shade. Now the job of the party is to close ranks and get on with its business.

The 11-vote margin would seem to indicate a sharp division of opinion. In the heat of the campaign, many intemperate things were said. Human nature being what it is, some of these may rankle; but if the Tories are to advance, personal rancors must be put aside and the new energies channeled into useful directions.

Ironically enough, the older element of the party seems to have leaned in the direction of the younger candidate, and vice-versa. The hard core of party faithful, who had stood by their principles during the years in the wilderness, apparently could not forget the loyal service rendered by their leader during these trying times.

Nevertheless, the ginger groups in the party have a definite contribution to make and if they are wise, they will accord to Finlayson that element of dynamism and spirit which they brought to their campaign for Dr. Kidd.

The Tories have a real opportunity to provide a free-enterprise alternative to the Bennett government, whose fortunes appear to be on the decline. But this opportunity will pass if they squander their time in intra-mural squabbling and convention recriminations.

Their clear course is to rally behind Finlayson and give him every support within their power.

The Family Reunion

PERHAPS ONE OF THE MOST influential countries concerned in the Commonwealth trade conference which opened in Montreal today will be the United States. A U.S. delegate will not, of course, be present at the talks, but American reaction to any decisions taken will be prominently in the minds of most of the delegates.

Canada, which sells most of her exports to the United States and is that country's largest customer, will be conscious of the continuing billion-dollar unfavorable balance of trade with her large neighbor.

Britain will be aware of the problems arising from her position as leader of the sterling bloc in a world in which the U.S. dollar has taken precedence.

India, along with other Asian and African members of the Commonwealth, will be mindful of her pressing need of dollars for development capital as well as for commodity imports.

All of these considerations will give Washington the status of an unseen but far from forgotten participant.

Another background fact of importance to the conference is Britain's association with free trade areas on the continent. The European movement towards a common market has attracted British attention and a limited co-operation. It constitutes a huge counterweight to Britain's participation in Commonwealth trade programs, an alternative the United Kingdom can always turn to if bargaining becomes too close among her Commonwealth allies.

Canada, the host country, presents her guests with an inconsistency. Ottawa is expected to ask Britain to reconsider the currency exchange policy which at present restricts Britain's import of Canadian goods. The Canadian Government feels that London's position is now secure enough to warrant easing of the regulations that long have protected London's gold and dollar reserves.

But at the same time the Canadian delegates go to the conference with legislation fresh on the books which is designed to protect the domestic textile industry by excluding British textiles.

Mr. Diefenbaker's earlier declared intention of diverting to Britain 15 per cent of the import demand now satisfied wholly by United States producers was long ago quietly shelved. From a suggested plan it became, during the Prime Minister's visit to the United States, merely a casual "for instance" reference.

The British counter-proposal for full free trade with Canada was evidently viewed with private horror by a Canadian Government now committed to higher tariff policies. It has since been espoused by the Liberal Opposition as a long-range objective and may yet play an important part in Canadian politics. As a topic for the present conference, however, it is not likely to be more than a memory embarrassing to both nations.

This is expected to be the most extensive Commonwealth trade gathering since 1932. If the intervening quarter century has proven one fact it is that Commonwealth trade agreements are not likely to withstand economic pressures. In international trade, friendship, accompanied by high prices, can not long compete with low-cost goods from outside the family circle, selfish though this may seem.

The conference will reflect, too, the changing nature of the Commonwealth during the years since 1932. Newly independent members have emerged from colonial status, with new needs and ambitions. Increasing industrialization of formerly primary producers has altered the market picture considerably: there are more points at which Commonwealth members compete with their products, fewer points at which colonial administration can direct the flow of trade.

The problems are more complicated today, the decisions more far-reaching. The Montreal sessions will be interesting, even if they fail to produce answers to the pressing questions presented.

Expert Eyes on Canada's Schools

THIS WEEK VICTORIA PLAYS host to the Canadian Education Association, holding its thirty-fifth convention here under the presidency of Dr. H. L. Campbell, retired deputy minister of education for British Columbia who has flown from a new posting in Europe to attend.

The event is one of the significant meetings of educationists on this continent, an occasion when those professionally engaged in directing the schools of Canada exchange ideas and discuss developments in their chosen field.

The list of speakers, discussion leaders and chairmen of various groups indicates the high calibre of men and women taking part. They are the people on whom this country largely depends for the trends followed in the formal instruction of its children—ministers from various provinces and specialists in different fields.

To a substantial degree the Canadian Education Association convention will devote itself to the practical matters of schools, their costs, present needs, their staffing, the adequacy of science and mathematics courses now presented and other issues of current educational significance.

But the program will not be restricted by entirely material considerations in education. There will be occasion for the expression of views on present day philosophy on the subject and for inspirational messages.

At a time when North American interest in the subject is probably higher than ever before, Victoria is honored to be the convention centre. What is done and said here this week will have important influences on the procedures followed in the years ahead as the people who have made careers in education examine means by which opportunities for learning can be broadened for Canadian youth.

Coattails or Vest?

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER HAS announced that he will campaign for Republicans in this fall's off-year elections and has raised considerable speculation by the announcement.

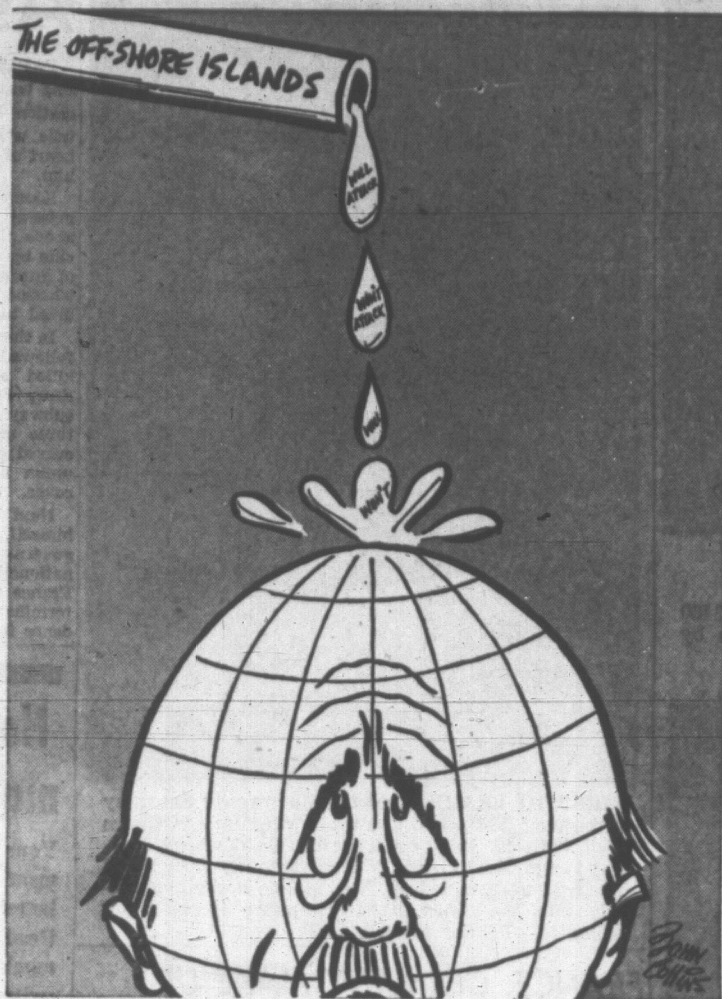

How effective, ask some of the analysts, will the President be?

This is an attitude far different from that when many Republicans were elected on the Eisenhower coattails. At that time his personal popularity was high, his aura of authority impressive. Since then he has lost some of his popularity and some of his air of authority.

But despite setbacks—the effects of the integration problems and the Goldfine-Adams incident among them—the President has regained stature in recent weeks.

The question for the political observers in the coming contests is one of fashion. When the President campaigns, will he be wearing a Prince Albert, or some other garment with adequate coattails? Or will the voters see the Chief Executive as a man in a vest, with no tails on which Republicans can ride into office?

NO MOSS ON MOSS ST.

By B. A. TOBIN

Why a Gallery?

THEY opened a fine new art gallery building on Moss Street last Saturday. A lot of people turned up and said, "Hurray!" and a lot stayed away and no doubt said, "Why?" It's a fair question. Why should a group or a community put up a building just to hang a lot of pictures on the wall? What is the point of it all?

Tobin

One of the speakers of the day gave a clue later on when he pointed out that in any country where painting, sculpture and other arts have made progress, almost every other facet of living has made progress too. One of the ways in which painting is encouraged is for people to buy the painters' products. Another is for public or semi-public organizations to provide space in which the work can be displayed to the people.

Giving a painter a place to show his abilities is the best encouragement possible. That is one of the chief functions of an art gallery. But there are many others.

The old type of gallery put a collection of paintings on the wall and left them there. That was it. Nowadays there is a new technique.

A gallery has its own permanent collection to be exhibited from time to time, but it also provides a showplace for travelling collections. Thus there is a constant change in the work presented, and this gives an opportunity for exhibits to be centred around some theme or category.

What to See

A show might be confined to locally done pictures of some local scene—as the Victoria Art Gallery has shown exhibits restricted to various impressions of the harbor here or the streets.

Or a show may comprise paintings from a certain period or country. The opening show of the new gallery wing is composed of Canadian paintings done over the last 200 years. Or perhaps some particular artist is featured, such as future shows to be devoted to Emily Carr. Perhaps a specific school of painters or style may be shown. There is no end to the groupings that may be formed.

Now all this may sound dull to many folks. They can walk past an art gallery and never give a thought to what may be inside it, just as some people can walk past a library and never think of reading anything in it, pick up a newspaper and never wonder what's happened in Lebanon or Quemoy, drive past a parliament building and never care what laws are being passed, hear someone laughing and have no curiosity as to what the joke was.

Everyone has a perfect right to pay attention to what's going on around him or ignore it. If he's satisfied with his own thoughts and problems, that's reason enough to stay with them. But the joker is this.

In nine cases out of ten, if the passer-by—whether he's passing by a building or an idea—can be lured inside just once, he may find it so interesting that he'll keep on coming.

He'll find that a lot of other people have been thinking about the same things he has—some of them agreeing with him, some of them disagreeing. He'll find a couple of new angles that he hadn't thought of before. In fact, before he knows it, he'll find that he's enjoying himself.

It may be some time later when he also finds that he's learned a lot. Something has been added to his life and his interest because in an odd moment he plunged into an art gallery, a library, a newspaper, a parliament building or a joke.

An idea may be placid, like a well-active, like a threshing machine; or exciting, like a dark tunnel full of wasps. Whichever it is, you aren't likely to get far into it and still come out feeling the same as when you entered.

Many Answers

These are all answers to the question: Why an art gallery? There are many others. Because a modern gallery isn't just a picture exhibit any more. It goes in for a score of activities.

You'll find art classes for children and adults, a library of magazines and books, weaving classes, pottery fans, music addicts, places for meetings of one club or another. In fact, a gallery isn't the old Pharaoh's tomb type of place it used to be.

It's a place where a lot of activity, mental and physical, is going on. It's a place just as necessary to a five community as its schools are. Above all, it's a place where the prevailing attitude is inquiring rather than reverential.

If you like a painting, you'll find people who agree with you. But if you don't like it, you'll find others who share your taste. Nobody has to worship, nobody has to conform. You're on your own, and the weight of your opinion is limited only by the facts you can dredge up to support it.

All this makes for a pretty interesting environment. Drop in some time and try it.

As Our Readers See It

Labor Council and Chest

I have been instructed by council to write to you with regard to the editorial item appearing in the Victoria Daily Times, on August 12, 1958, entitled "Strange Kind of Support."

May I point out that delegates to the Victoria Labor Council represent a very large portion of our community and that it is not only their right, but it is their duty to question and find out about such things in which the Labor Council is concerned in order to take back information to their membership. If the manner in which they do this is picked up by the press who sit in on our meetings and segments of discussion publicized and enlarged upon, it is certainly unfair that an editorial comment should be used which, in part, uses the support of, and the Community Chest as a sounding board.

For your information, we are keeping in touch with the YMCA and the YWCA in the matter of information and there will be a speaker attending council from the YMCA for this purpose at an early date.

Your remarks with regard to having uniforms to attend Scout meetings are quite true as regard Scout Orders. May

I point out that individual groups are responsible to the group committee who may make a policy for their group unknown to the newcomer.

The fact that a newspaper campaign has taken over the work of the Christmas Fund, thereby reducing financial help required is a point well taken, but may again be construed as being contrary to the idea of having all agencies under a central body such as the Community Chest.

The fact remains that the Victoria Labor Council representing, as I have said, a large portion of our community, has voted unanimously to endorse this year's campaign of the Community Chest which was further emphasized at the last regular meeting with a motion which included, in part, that we get behind the Community Chest without any reservations.

I am sure that you and the staff of the Victoria Daily Times would like to see a completely successful campaign for the Chest this year and may we join with you in this wish and all of us give active support to this end.

A. W. TOONE,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Victoria Labor Council.

They Won't Be Back

Speaking for the Northgate Quarter Midget Club of Seattle, I would like to thank the people of Victoria for the warm and enthusiastic manner in which they welcomed our little drivers a week ago Saturday. Special thanks also to your newspaper for the interest you showed.

Unfortunately we will be unable to appear again in your city because of what I personally feel to be an unfair tax imposed on us by the Canadian Government.

Upon our departure from Canada, we were approached by a person wearing the uniform of the Canada Customs who informed us that the children's cars were subject to a "Competition Tax" of ten dollars each. I questioned the reason for such a tax and the Customs Official became quite rude and spoke in an abusive manner to my wife and myself. He antagonized me to such a point that I also became very angry.

Our Northgate Quarter Midget Club is trying to create and maintain an interesting and safe activity for boys and girls from age 4 to 16 so that they may enjoy a close relationship with their parents in a healthy outdoor sport which requires skill and practice in the handling of mechanical devices: develops reflexes, alertness, and co-ordination which will be of great value to them throughout their entire lives; develops in our younger generation the ideals of fairness, generosity, and sense of responsibility without the envy of others.

Our programs are free to anyone who cares to come and watch the various events held each Saturday at the Northgate Bowl in Seattle. The trip we made to Victoria was entirely at our own expense as we definitely do not accept pay.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Quemoy and Churchill

AT his press conference, Mr. Dulles sent up a trial balloon. He hinted at a formula which was to extricate this country from its entanglement in Quemoy. But because he is so deeply entangled, he could not say clearly that what he would like to do is to trade a withdrawal from the offshore islands for a pledge that the Red Chinese will not use force to take over Formosa. This would indeed be a convenient arrangement in that it would validate our Formosa policy while it got us out of our foolish and unpopular commitment in the offshore islands.

Lippmann

But there is no good reason to hope that the Dulles formula can be agreed upon. Apart from the Communist opposition to it, there is the prior fact that Chiang will almost certainly oppose it. It is most improbable that Mr. Dulles can get authority from Chiang to make such a deal, or even to make a serious proposal.

Rosiest View

For the barest minimum, and taking the rosiest possible view of Red China's attitude, the Dulles formula would require Chiang to make two very painful concessions. One would be to withdraw his troops and to abandon the islands, which are the symbol of his intention to return to the mainland. The other concession would be to renounce publicly the use of force in order to return to the mainland, to renounce—that is to say—the fiction that the real China is in Formosa and that it will recover the rest of China.

Were it proposed seriously by the U.S. in a serious negotiation with Red China, the Dulles formula would almost certainly mean the downfall of Chiang's government.

For these reasons alone, the Dulles formula is not really a negotiating proposal. It is a debating position, good for a few public speeches, in that it suggests the attractive idea that the Chinese civil war and the Chinese-American conflict can be resolved without shooting.

This is what ought to be made to happen. But it cannot come to pass because of our entanglement, which has engaged our honor, with Chiang.

Wide Support

that Formosa be constituted an autonomous territory, neutralized and demilitarized under international supervision. It would be a corollary of such a proposal that the bulk of the mainland Chinese in Formosa should be repatriated to the mainland and that Chiang and his lieutenants should be given asylum in some safe place.

Although such a policy would truly serve the United States' national interests in this area, and would be respectable in the opinion of mankind, there is no hope now that it can be adopted. Both Chiang and Mao will oppose it, and we are not free to propose what Chiang opposes.

Question Remains

There will remain the question of whether we are compelled to do what Chiang demands. Quemoy is in fact besieged and blockaded, and it can be only a question of time when it will surrender or it will have to be evacuated. For the siege and blockade of this island cannot be lifted except by an attack on the Chinese mainland, an attack which would precipitate, at the least, a local war.

The alternative is for the President to break off this action, thus disengaging this country from the offshore islands, and to use the power of the 7th Fleet to evacuate Chiang's troops. That this will be a defeat and a retreat is only too obvious. But, as compared with letting Quemoy be starved out, or with starting a general war over Quemoy, it is the least of the evils. For we must not deceive ourselves. There is no good way out of this dead end into which the President and Mr. Dulles have led us.

In this connection we can do well to read and to ponder Winston Churchill's final conclusions in the chapter called "The Tragedy of Munich" in his book "The Gathering Storm."

His central point is that the tragedy of Munich lay in the fact that France and Great Britain sacrificed Czechoslovakia at a moment when "honour pointed the path of duty, and when the right judgment of the facts at the time would have reinforced its dictates."

Preceding Passage

But what is often overlooked is a passage which precedes this judgment: "Those who are prone by temperament and character to seek sharp and clear-cut solutions of difficult and obscure problems, who are ready to fight whenever some challenge comes from a foreign power have not always been right. On the other hand, those whose inclination is to bow their heads, to seek patiently and faithfully for peaceful compromise, are not always wrong. On the contrary, in the majority of instances they may be right, not only morally but from a practical standpoint. How many wars have been averted by patience and persisting good will. Religion, and virtue alike lend their sanctions to meekness and humility, not only between men but between nations. How many wars have been precipitated by firebrands! How many misunderstandings which led to wars could have been removed by temporizing! How often have countries fought cruel wars and then after a few years of peace found themselves not only friends but allies!" (Copy't 1958, N.Y. Herald Tribune Inc.)

The Staggering Effort

THE road that runs along the ridge is well above the timber line, but the bleak slopes beside it are full of treasures for those who know where to find them.

Right beside the road, on an outcrop of rock are several little plants of the Piper Bellflower growing next to low cushions of creeping phlox and to the flat rosettes of Lyall Lupine.

By September, the blooms of the Bellflower have faded. But botanists who know this flower that is found only in the Olympics say that it is blue and starlike, with a dainty fragile blossom that is only 1 to 1½ inches in diameter. The flower stems are about four inches high, they say, and the plant grows firmly in crevices of rock where you wonder how it can find any nourishment. It even makes the American Harbell or Bluebell of Scotland look clumsy, they add.

If you cannot find the flower itself, they say that there is an exquisite model of it in the Olympic Pioneer Memorial Museum near Port Angeles.

Some miles beyond the Bellflower Place, the road ends abruptly beside a sloping hill and two trails lead off to different ridges that both have magnificent views of snow-capped peaks.

Beside these trails are many plants, low and clumpy, of the Lyall Lupine, that is shorter and more spreading than the Sub-alpine Lupine of lower elevations. Its flowers are purplish-blue. Its leaves are small and basal, and its leaflets and stems are covered with tiny white hairs that help to give the flowerless plant a light-colored appearance.

The spreading phlox, too, grows profusely on these almost barren slopes. Its thick flat mats are everywhere and often seem to grow in lines running down the slopes of shale. (Why is this, I wonder. These lines of growth were very distinct in several places.)

Where the trail leaves the ridge to zig-zag down to a lake in a valley, the alpine fire appears, small and stunted and held close to the ground by mountain winds that have bent and twisted them into monstrous shapes.

(This deformed growth is known as "Krumholz" from a German word meaning "crooked wood.")

From barren heights, past small patches of Alpine meadow where the sound of trickling water is most welcome, the trail goes down and down. (A dozen grouse, talking gently to each other, are working their way up a grassy slope.)

Beyond the lake, in one small grassy glade, gentians grow thickly beside the trail. Past their prime, but still in bloom, their petals have the feel and look of the dull side of carbon paper. (What a horrible comparison. It's better perhaps, to think of carbon paper as being like gentians. Lift the mind. Don't debate it!)

Through woods of dim religious light, the trail continues down. Past a special mossy bank it goes, and there, like unexpected treasure, is Quenqu Beach with two basal leaves of dark glossy green and pure white flower that changes to single smooth berry of turquoise blue.

There, too, in that mossy patch is Bunchberry Dogwood that is like a Lilliputian miniature of our familiar tree. Beside it are trailing stems of Longtube Windflower whose tiny blooms are pink, bell-shaped and grow in nodding pairs. ("You should have seen them when they were in bloom.")

From near here, the trail starts upward, and climbs steeply for what, to the fat and middle-aged, seems like eternity and the limit of endurance. It goes through woods where little grows beneath the trees, through the lush lower meadows, through higher dryer ones where marmots whistle in shrill alarm.

Up and up, the trail winds relentlessly, and desk-soft column-writers wish they could lie down and die while hardy botanist leaps on ahead like veritable mountain goat!

Ah! Thank God! The ridge at last. Let me lie prone like these creeping phlox and little Lyall Lupines. The trail is level now? An easy mile or so along the ridge? Come on, then, let's get cracking. Put me on fairly level ground, and I'll show you that I'm nothing like finished yet!

What's more, I'll try this trail another year, but earlier when most of the flowers are properly in bloom.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Loans Minus Security

LONDON — The Midland Bank certainly started something when it announced that it would grant personal loans up to £500 (since increased to £1,000) at 5 per cent without security.

It was such a wonderful deal—it applied not only to present Midland customers but also to anyone else who wanted to switch to the Midland to get it on it... in the event of death the debt was wiped out... etc.

Naturally it precipitated a battle royal among the big interests whose concern it was to advance loans and provide goods on credit.

The other top banks followed suit. (Except one, which went on record publicly as being against the scheme but in private will provide the same facilities to its regular customers.)

Hire-purchase companies slashed their rates. Motor car firms announced easier terms for purchasers. One big furniture store went to the length of scrubbing out interest altogether on hire-purchased goods—in other words you can spread the cash price over two years.

The public has been watching all this with great glee. You can't go anywhere without encountering cheery discussions about how the way is open now for people to buy all sorts of things they've wanted but which they have been held back from buying because of the credit squeeze.

Everywhere you see reflected the wonderful feeling of release from the austerity which has dragged on and on through the postwar years.

Since you haven't lived through Britain's credit squeeze, you probably don't appreciate just what a constricting force it has been. In simple terms Britain has, since the war, to export in a big way to get the nation back on its feet, so the government has had to disavow the locals from buying goods which would benefit the country more if sold overseas.

Bank overdrafts and loans were frowned on; people buying on hire-purchase were forced to deposit a high percentage of the purchase price; even rentals called for the renter paying, as advance rent, a big chunk of the value of the item.

In other words, every sort of obstacle was put in the way of money being made available for the buying of "consumer durables," that shocking word that means consumer goods such as radios, TV sets, furniture, cars, etc., as against food, cigarettes, and so on.

But recently the government relaxed on overdrafts and that has given the banks their old prewar freedom again. Which prompted the Midland Bank to deliver its bombshell. Formerly the world's biggest bank (before deflation), the Midland is noted in staid British circles for "always getting up to their tricks." This latest one of unsecured loans is regarded as a frightfully American thing to do.

But the public is overjoyed about it. And so are the manufacturers. British industry has been presented with a powerful new stimulant.

BULLET IN KEYHOLE BLOWS UP 2 YOUTHS

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP) — Two 15-year-old rabbit hunters were blown to bits Saturday night when they fired a .22-calibre rifle through a keyhole of a powder magazine and set off four tons of explosives.

Only parts of the boys' bodies were recovered. They and their guns were blown several hundred yards from the building.

The concussion shattered several windows in the centre of this southern Utah City. The explosion was about three miles from town.

The Day YOU Were Born

Maureen Goodspeed, 2337 Heron Street, is in her last year at Oak Bay High. She hopes to go on to the B.C. Bible Institute next year. She teaches Sunday school at Oak Bay Tabernacle.

Maureen also is a busy correspondent with pen-pals all over the world.

On the day she was born: Conscriptio became law in Maureen the U.S.

A member of the Jehovah Witness sect was charged under the Defence of Canada Act for refusing to salute the flag.

The Japanese Admiralty apologized for dropping a bomb on the Canadian liner Empress of Asia. They explained it was entirely accidental. Four crew men were injured but little damage was done.

Nazi planes raided London. A balloon barrage of new design was being installed to intercept raiders.

The new Buick had "Stepped-up Fireball engines," developing 115, 125 and 165 horsepower.

An American college president, Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, said that moral persuasion could not stay an invasion of Britain and that it was up to the American armed services to "step into the breach" and preserve United States "as a free and democratic nation."

The Times was accepting contributions for the relief of air raid victims in London.

The date? Saturday, Sept. 14, 1940, Maureen—celebrated her birthday on Sunday.

Fire Aid Plea From Ganges

GANGES—Henry McGill of the volunteer fire department here has been ordered to Victoria to seek all possible information to help improve the fire protection situation on Salt Spring Island.

In addition, Donald Goodman has asked to be relieved of his duties as chief because of his appointment as school janitor.

According to the department, the civil defence fire truck being used must be returned, leaving only an inadequate local truck, and funds are at a low ebb of only $43.

Funeral Held For Duncan Club Worker

DUNCAN—Funeral services were held here today for Mrs. Patricia Eileen Lawrence, 41, prominent community worker who died at her Quamichan Lake home Friday night.

Born in North Vancouver, she lived in England during the Second World War, and returned to Canada in 1947. She had lived here for 10 years.

She was past regent of Dogwood Chapter, IOOE; a member of St. John's Anglican Church; and member of St. John's W.A.

Surviving are the husband, John S. Lawrence, manager of the T. Eaton Co. store here; a son, John Craig, and two daughters, Glynis Ann and Penny Paula, all at home.

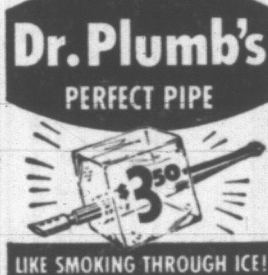

The service was followed by cremation.

School Enrolment Shows Increase At Chemainus

CHEMAINUS—School registration is up here this year, with 314 students enrolled in the high school, and 378 registered at the elementary school.

Teachers and students at the high school are holding their classes under some difficulty as contractors are still at work on extensions to the building.

It will be six weeks to two months before all classes can be accommodated in their proper classrooms and school facilities. The two-storey addition on the southwest corner of the high school and the administrative offices on the north side are being rushed to completion.

New Mv. Island Princess, recently completed in Vancouver for use by Gulf Islands Navigation Ltd. on its inter-island service, will make its inaugural cruise Wednesday.

It was scheduled to make a Vancouver harbor cruise today. The Wednesday trip will be made to all Gulf Island ports with special guests aboard, and on Thursday regular service will begin.

WITHDRAWN

Mv. Lady Rose will be withdrawn from the service after her trip Tuesday.

The new vessel, 132 feet in length and powered by two Rolls-Royce diesel engines, will have accommodation for 300 passengers and 20 cars. Operating from Vancouver, she will call at Mayne, Pender, Galliano, Saturday, and Salt Spring Islands.

School Site Donated By Council

SAANICHTON—Central Saanich Council will give Saanich School District 63 three acres of land on Veynes Road, site of the first school in Saanich.

It had been given to South Saanich School District in 1873 by the owner, pioneer William Thomson, and was transferred to Central Saanich municipality when the new municipality was formed in 1951.

The school board asked that the transfer be made, and offered to pay all costs.

"It was given by Thomson for a school," Coun. Harry Peard said. "The school board is the only body entitled to ownership."

New Spillway Constructed At Fuller's Lake

CHEMAINUS—A spillway has been erected at the Crozier Road end of Fuller's Lake by MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd., Chemainus Division, as a flood control measure.

This will maintain the future level of the lake at about 15 inches above the present level but two-and-a-half feet below the former winter level, and correct any encroachment on private property due to seasonal rains.

The company is drawing its industrial supply of water from Fuller's Lake because of the low level of the municipal watershed at Holyoak Lake. In the event of a community emergency, the municipal system can also be switched over to Fuller's Lake.

Tenement Fire Takes 7 Lives

'Arithmetic of Death' Recounted By Grief-Stricken Immigrants

OTTAWA (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Butz lost the last four of their seven children in a tenement fire here Saturday. Seven persons in all died.

Mrs. Butz saw one of her children slaughtered when the Russians entered East Germany in 1945, before the family emigrated to Canada in 1953. Another child born during the Second World War died when it was three weeks old. The seventh starved to death during the lean war years.

The mother, 39-year-old Anneliese Butz, and Mr. Butz, 45, were on the verge of collapse as they gave the arithmetic of death that has been their lives.

CAN'T START AGAIN

"We cannot start over again," said Auguste Butz, burying his head in his wife's lap.

Their last four children—23-month-old twin girls, Louise and Marlene, and two other girls, Eva Marie and Marie Anne, aged nine and 10, died Saturday along with a visiting neighbor's child, five-year-old Nancy Heron, in the Butz's third-floor apartment.

Mrs. Jean Delaney, 32, trapped on a second-floor veranda along with James Barrigar, 42, as flames poured out of the building around them, died in hospital.

Barrigar died in hospital of third-degree burns.

Persons in the crowd on the street said they saw the children's gaunt faces staring from the third-floor windows. They could do nothing to help. Some spectators cried or turned away their faces.

Huddled on Floor

Four of the children's bodies later were found huddled on the floor, and the fifth bundled under a mattress and blankets.

The fire was believed to have started in a ground-floor kitchen. Cause has not yet been established.

Three Injured When Car Jumps Lochside Drive

Three people were treated at Rest Haven Hospital, Sidney, for injuries received when their car left Lochside drive at 1 a.m. Saturday near Sidney.

John Rothery, 46, of Sidney, described by police as driver of the car, was believed to have broken ribs.

Passengers W. E. Gordon, Sidney, with a cut elbow, and Victoria Dry, Sidney, with abrasions and a small laceration, were treated and released.

Police said their car went off the left side of the road, scraped an embankment and was spun around to face in nearly the opposite direction. Damage was estimated at $600.

I was a sleepless wreck

My nerves grated from lack of sleep. Indigestion bothered me. I felt jittery, depressed, drained of all ambition and energy.

Some people suffer unpleasantness because their systems are aggravated by elements in everyday beverages. This is particularly true of those with "nervous" temperaments.

While some people can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without harm, others cannot.

Postum does not contain stimulants such as caffeine, theophylline or theobromine which can rob you of sleep, irritate your nerves, speed up pulse with subsequent depressing let-down. Postum does not contain tannin to give you indigestion, nor any other ingredient to cause you harm.

Switch to Instant Postum, the beverage of comfort. Postum tastes and acts like no other beverage. Postum has its own distinctive flavor. Make Postum instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water, or hot milk, stir and enjoy.

Try Postum for 30 days. When nerves are soothed, you sleep better, feel better, look better. Get Instant Postum at your grocer's. Costs less than 1¢ a cup. A product of General Foods, Limited.

NEGRO SHOT BY POLICE

ATLANTA (AP)—A Negro man was killed by police Saturday night when a large group of Negroes stormed a police car in an unsuccessful effort to take a prisoner from police custody.

Mr. Butz had been at work in a uranium mine at Elliot Lake, 450 miles northwest of Ottawa, and did not learn of the deaths until he had been brought to Ottawa Sunday morning.

Mrs. Butz at the time of the fire was at work at an Ottawa restaurant. A babysitter was to arrive to look after the children shortly after the fire broke out.

Youth Cleared of Knife Slayings

NEW YORK (AP)—An 18-year-old youth, William Fletcher, apparently was cleared Saturday of any suspicion in the Staten Island knife slayings of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Nimer, but was charged with stealing two suitcases in Brooklyn. This action returned the spotlight to eight-year-old Melvin Nimer Jr., who, after first telling police a masked intruder slew his parents, claimed he did it with a kitchen knife. The boy now is undergoing mental tests. Authorities have said the placed against him.

FACTS about the LONGSHORE STRIKE in British Columbia

Since August 21st, a strike by some 1300 longshoremen, members of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union, has tied up all deepsea water-borne freight movement through British Columbia ports.

This is the first strike in 23 years against the Shipping Federation of British Columbia, the employing body which hires longshoremen and bargains collectively with their Union in behalf of shipping, stevedoring and wharf companies. Because of the effect of this dispute on the public and on shippers through B.C. ports, some explanations of how the strike occurred and of events to date are here presented British Columbia deepsea longshoremen are amongst the highest earners in Canada's labor force. They are presently paid a base rate of $2.57 per hour. The average earnings of the members of the Union from April, 1957, to April, 1958, was $445.00 per month; their average hours 33 per week.

Longshoremen at Montreal and Saint John, N.B., are paid a base rate of $2.02; Halifax, N.S., and Quebec, P.Q., $1.92; Hamilton, Ont., $1.55.

British Columbia deepsea longshoremen since 1953 have had a pension plan paid for entirely by the Shipping Federation. This plan pays at age 65 Pension Benefits of $60.00 a month after 30 or more years' service; $50.00 after 25 years' service; $40.00 after 20 years' service; $30 after 15 years' service. Eastern Canadian longshoremen have an employer-paid pension plan which pays $35.00 per month pension at age 65 after 25 or more years' service; no pension for less than 25 years' service.

B.C. longshoremen asked that the existing pension plan be changed to a contributory type plan paying increased pensions. In 1957, after detailed study, the Federation offered the Union a contributory type plan paying increased pensions. This plan compared favorably with any of the major industrial pension plans in Canada, and was more generous than most. The Union's Committee rejected this offer.

Subsequently, the Federation offered them further concessions on pensions but the Union's Committee continued to reject the plan.

On August 21st, hoping to avert a strike, the Federation's Committee offered to recommend even further concessions on pensions. The Union's Committee rejected this offer, too, and called the strike on only two hours' notice.

Along with demands for improved pensions, the Union asked changes in the working agreement. These included a wage increase of 61½ cents per hour or 24%, a costlier vacation plan, paid named holidays and a number of alterations in working procedures which, if granted, would mean greater costs and/or further restrictive practices that would slow down vessel loading and unloading.

Throughout negotiations and later in conciliation the Union held to its demands despite the fact that ocean shipping is in its worst slump since 1933 . . . there are more ships laid up throughout the world than at any time since the Great World Depression . . . and despite the fact that the longshoremen are doing well financially and have been fairly treated by their employers over the years.

The Federation tried to have the highly specialized and important subject of pensions removed from the dispute and placed with a separate joint committee, with the hope that progress could be made on solving the other issues. The Union, refusing to do this, has made pensions the chief strike issue.

To settle the dispute and have work resumed as quickly as possible the Federation wired the Federal Minister of Labor, Honorable Michael Starr, the day following the beginning of the strike, offering to have the dispute arbitrated. This offer was rejected by the Minister and the Union.

Again on September 2nd the Federation suggested to the Minister of Labor that a special mediator experienced in the field of industrial pensions be appointed to endeavor to resolve the key pension issue.

On September 10th, the Shipping Federation was informed by the Minister of Labor that he had appointed Eric Taylor as an Industrial Enquiry Commission. The Minister was advised by the Federation that it welcomes this appointment, which makes possible a full study of the complex pension issue as well as other matters in dispute.

Lacrosse Standout Joins Cougar Club

Victoria Cougar coach Pat Egan announced this morning the signing of Nanaimo Timbermen lacrosse ace Skip McKay to a tryout contract.

McKay will join Cougars at their Nelson training camp starting, Sept. 27.

A right winger, McKay broke into professional ranks with the Vancouver Canucks in 1955 and was sent to the International League after only a few games. He has played there the last two seasons.

Elsewhere on the Western Hockey League front Bill Sutherland, highest scoring centre in the International League last year, has been assigned to the Spokane Flyers.

Sutherland collected a record-breaking 68 goals for Cincinnati. Flyers also announced the acquisition of Walt Bradley who played for Shawinigan Falls of the professional Quebec League last season.

English Youngster Nabs Singles Title

TORONTO (CP)—A young Englishman carved his name on the O'Keefe Trophy Sunday, alongside those of Lew Hoad of Australia and Sven Davidson of Sweden.

Billy Knight, 23-year-old who swings a racquet like a cutlass, cut down Luis Ayala of Chile, top South American player, 6-3, 8-10, 7-5, 6-4, on the courts of Toronto Lawn Tennis Club to win the men's singles of the international invitation tennis tournament.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dorothy Head Knobe of Forest Hills, N.Y., dressed like a flapper in headscarf, dark glasses and sack dress tennis outfit, won the women's singles 1-6, 6-3, 6-4 over Australia's Mrs. Thelma Long.

MINOR UPSET

Ayala teamed with Ulf Schmidt of Sweden to score a minor upset by trouncing Mal Anderson of Australia and Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., 4-5, 6-4, 8-6, to win the men's doubles.

The women's doubles championship was played Friday, when Mrs. Long and Mary Hawton of Australia downed Maria Bueno of Brazil and Marta Hernandez of Mexico, 6-4, 6-4.

To get at Ayala Knight had to climb past Anderson, conceding to be the world's second-best tennis player—in the semi-finals Saturday.

Facts Favor Salmonbellies In Mann Cup Lacrosse Bid

New Westminster Salmonbellies will have two big factors in their favor when they go in search of their first Mann Cup victory in more than a decade this week against the eastern champion Welland-Crowland Switsons.

The best-of-seven Canadian senior lacrosse final starts Tuesday night.

Rocky to Call St. Nick Bouts

NEW YORK (AP)—Retired heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be the television commentator Sept. 29 when Monday night network TV boxing resumes at St. Nicholas Arena.

Matchmaker-promoter Teddy Brenner said Saturday Marciano will take over at the first show Sept. 29 when undefeated Jose Torres of New York meets Otis Woodward, another New Yorker, in the featured middleweight 10-round.

The factors are the advantage of home grounds—and Jack Bionda, Bionda, regarded as the finest lacrosse exponent in the Canadian game today, scored 19 goals in the seven playoff games against Nanaimo Timbermen which gave the Salmonbellies the western title.

Before that, he romped to an easy, decisive lead in the Inter-city Lacrosse League scoring statistics for regular season play. In the final deciding game against Nanaimo, Bionda scored four of New Westminster's goals.

Queen's Park Arena here is likely to be another big advantage for the Salmonbellies. They will be backed by a newly re-awakened lacrosse fervor in the city.

More than 3,000 fans attended each of the last three playoff games. The 4,533 who watched the final game was the largest crowd at a western lacrosse game since 1951.

Apart from Bionda, Salmonbellies have a good mixture of youth and experience which has proved a fine blend. Biggest scoring threats after Bionda are speedy forwards Cliff Sopka and Bill Jobb.

Others who will need watching from the Ontario team are Ivar Stewart, the fastest runner in the team, former Golden Glove boxer Jack Barclay, rookie Bill Wilks and veteran goalie Stan Joseph.

The Switsons, without coach Gus Madson who stayed back east because of illness in the family, won the right to represent the East in the Mann Cup series by defeating first Long Branch and then Brampton Excelsiors.

All-Time Low Reached; Tuna Hunters Blanked

WEDGEPORT, N.S. (CP)—For the first time in 15 years of competition, nobody bothered with the scoreboard at the international tuna cup match.

The no-run, no-hit match became official at 6 p.m. Saturday as anglers representing Mexico, the British Commonwealth, Cuba and the United States ended three days of fishing. None of the 23 fishermen had felt even a tug on the line.

Mexico, defending champion, gave up the big Sharp Trophy to a storage case. The Nova Scotia government took temporary custody, promising to release it to the nation that boats the biggest catch in the next international.

Match directors announced that Sept. 9-11 are the tentative dates for the 1959 round. Final approval rests with their annual meeting in New York in January.

In nine years total catches off Wedgeport dwindled from a high of 1,760 weighing nearly 225 tons to one. The year 1949, angling's most successful, also gave international competitors a record 72-fish haul. Five teams participated in the big catch with the U.S. winning on 19 bluefins weighing 7,591 pounds.

During the regular season, the Switsons ran up an impressive 21-3, win-loss record, scoring 322 goals to 178.

Veteran Nip O'Hearn, a former Victoria player, is expected to be the man to watch in the final series with forwards Don Baker and Doug Smith as the one-two scoring punch.

Many of the Switsons players are also hockey stars. Several were among the top 12 scorers in the Ontario Lacrosse Association in regular season play.

CHALLENGE RACE

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Sceptre, a white-hulled sloop embracing the best of British sailing brains and muscle, will try this week to wrest the America's Cup from U.S. shores where it has resided 107 years.

The sleek invader, built in secrecy and its racing prowess still a mystery, will oppose Columbia, America's race-tested defender, in a best-of-seven race series, starting nine miles off Brenton Reef Lightship.

The first race is scheduled Saturday. The two 12-metre yachts, the present-day heavyweights of the sea, then will match speed and skill daily,

JUNIOR LACROSSE FINAL

'Rocks' Banking on Speed

Victoria Junior Shamrocks are not yet at the point of a last-ditch stand against Brampton Excelsiors in their best-of-seven Minto Cup Canadian junior lacrosse finals.

But the embattled Irish will certainly have their backs to the wall when they go out to Memorial Arena Tuesday in an attempt to turn the eastern tide that has so far swept to two straight victories.

Coach Peeewe Bradshaw has indicated he will stick with the Rocks' usual fast-breaking style of play, despite the fact that Excelsiors successfully stalled their way to 7-6 and 12-7 victories in the first two games of the series.

"They play a very slow, stalling game and it threw us for a while," said Bradshaw, "but our fast break was beating them all right. We just couldn't put the ball in the net when we did beat them."

This time, though, Shamrocks will have the home-floor advantage. The series was moved to Victoria after the games at Trail did not draw large enough crowds.

Bradshaw reported that Jack Showers, who left the second game in the final quarter with a charley horse, will be back in action for the third contest. The stocky speedster is a key man in their fast-break pattern.

However, Bradshaw put the finger on goalie Don Hamilton as the man who had turned in the finest job. "He really was the big man on the team," he stated.

Yank Rivals Go Overboard, But Bucs Not Ready for Dip

Pirate Ace Nails 21st Win; Dodgers Trip Milwaukee 5-3

By Associated Press

The Pirates simply refuse to walk the plank. Six down with only nine games to play, Pittsburgh will not concede to the Milwaukee Braves.

Everybody else assumes a New York Yankee-Milwaukee rematch is a sure thing. The Yanks clinched the American League pennant Sunday. The Pirates insist on dying the hard way.

Bob Friend, top winner in the National League, posted his 21st victory Sunday in the second game against Chicago, 6-2, after Ted Kluszewski's sacrifice fly had won the first game, 5-4, for Pittsburgh.

The Yankees finally nailed down the AL pennant in Kansas City, winning the first game of a double-header 5-3. That did it mathematically.

Whitey Ford, who has been out of action with elbow trouble, had a five-inning tune-up in the second game, but the Yanks had to come up with five runs in the 14th inning to win it 12-7, making Ralph Terry a double loser.

Chicago celebrated the rehiring of manager Al Lopez for another year by bumping off Washington twice, 7-1 and 6-3.

Detroit took over third place by beating Boston 6-1 and 9-3, stretching the Red Sox' losing streak to seven games.

Ashburn Stretches Batting Lead

Duke Maas won the Sunday clincher for the Yanks although he needed help from Ryne Duren and Art Ditmar in the ninth. It was the Yanks' 24th pennant and their fourth straight and their ninth in 10 years under manager Stengel.

Virgil Trucks was the second-game winner for the Yanks with a fine six-inning relief job. Bob Cerv homered in each game, his 35th and 36th.

Rocky Colavito had two homers and Vic Power one in Cleveland's 7-4 opening victory over Baltimore. Arnold Portocarrero squared matters for Baltimore by winning the second game, 4-2, and hitting his first A.L. homer.

Pete Runnels of Boston regained the lead in the batting race at 319 with three hits in seven trips while teammate Ted Williams went hitless in five trips and dropped four points to 316.

Milwaukee lost to Los Angeles 5-3 on a two-run homer by Don Demeter. As a result of the defeat and the Pirates' double success, the Braves' lead was cut to six games. They still need any combination of five victories or Pittsburgh defeats to nail down those series cheques.

Joe Cunningham, filling in for Stan Musial at first base, hit two home runs against Philadelphia as St. Louis racked up a 6-3 decision for Sam Jones. The strike-out leader of the majors fanned six, boosting his season total to 22 while winning his 13th.

Willie Mays came to life in the second game at Cincinnati with a double and three singles in San Francisco's 6-4 victory. Bob Purkey won his 17th for Cincinnati in the opener 4-3.

Richie Ashburn of the Phils boosted his average to .342 with three hits in five trips against the Cards to widen his lead in the National League batting race. Musial was idle, remaining in second place at .338. Mays moved up to .335, while Hank Aaron of Milwaukee slipped one point on a hitless afternoon to .332.

Hamilton Remains On Winning Trail

By The Canadian Press

Some university should award Hamilton Tiger-Cats an honorary degree (perhaps masters of pushing and passing) for their efforts to teach the finer points of Canadian football.

Unfortunately, United States fans don't take to the lessons any better than the Ticats' fellow-clubs in the Big Four union.

Sunday, the 1957 Grey Cup winners carried their missionary work down to Philadelphia to polish off Ottawa Rough Riders, 24-18, in a scholarly-but-unexciting display. That exercise gave Ticats five wins in as many games and a six-point lead over Ottawa and Montreal Alouettes, each with two wins and three losses.

BATTLE OF CATS Won by Wild Ones

KAMLOOPS (CP)—North Vancouver Wildcats passed their way to a 41-1 victory over Kamloops Kougars Sunday scoring 88 of their points in the fourth quarter of the B.C. Intermediate Football League opening game.

Wildcats got nowhere through the line in the first quarter and switched to an aerial attack which poured through the Kougars defence.

MONTREAL SQUAD East Soccer Kings

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Harrington Tool won the Eastern Canada soccer championship Saturday with a 4-2 victory over the Halifax Submarine Squadron in a sudden death semi-final playoff with Winnipeg Scottish. Finals will be played in Vancouver.

MUTUEL MURMERS—Jane Grey was the sole Island steed to enter the winner's circle... Trained by Don Carley and expertly navigated by Jack Arterburn she easily subdued the favored Sad Henry... Arterburn did an excellent job aboard George Did in the second... Coupled with Will Breeches the quinnella was a tasty $86... Racing resumes Wednesday with seven heats starting at 2:30... George Bremner's Our Johnie, winner of the Graduation Handicap over the classy Glenzel, cantered proudly between races... Announced Jack Short hailed Johnie as perhaps the best two-year-old in B.C. this year.

CHALLENGE RACE

Secrecy Surrounds Sceptre

except Sunday, until one of them has scored four victories.

Tradition and, apparently, design and equipment favor the Americans but the experience and the determination of the British sailors gird the possibilities of an upset.

"I believe our chances are about even," says the Sceptre's helmsman, Lt.-Cmdr. Graham Mann, 34-year-old line officer in the Royal Navy. "The owners wouldn't have sent this boat across if they didn't think we had a reasonable chance of winning."

Should the Sceptre succeed, she will accomplish a feat no other British vessel has been able to perform since the America's Cup, once known as the Hundred Guineas Cup, was won by the schooner America in a race around the Isle of Wight in 1851.

The trophy, probably worth no more than $200 in actual value, was brought to the United States. The New York Yacht Club told the world the cup was open to competition.

Since then there have been 16 challenges and 50 races, with Britain spending $20,000,000 and the Americans $10,000,000 in the endeavors. But to the chagrin of the British, proud of their history of seamanship, the cup never was budged.

IN WESTERN CONFERENCE

Field Starting To String Out

By The Canadian Press

Unless there are upsets, the Western Football Conference standings should be strung out after tonight's games.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers, already in first place alone, should maintain their margin with a win tonight at Vancouver over British Columbia Lions.

Stampeders, now tied in second place with Edmonton Eskimos, who defeated Lions 13-7 Saturday night, are the favorites to triumph over Saskatchewan Roughriders in Regina tonight.

ESKIMOS IDLE

A three-way tie for the second spot would result if George Terlep's Riders can stop Stamps. The Saskatchewan team, idle Saturday night, is two points behind Stamps and Eskis. Edmonton is idle to night.

At Calgary Saturday night, Bud Grant's Bombers dumped Stamps, 20-7, before 15,700 fans.

HOLLOWAY SCORES

Calgary's touchdown was counted by halfback Chuck Holloway after a 17-yard pass by quarterback Maury Duncan. Doug Brown converted.

Van Pelt went in after first-stringer Ken Ploen was shaken up on the second play of the game. Ploen was used sparingly for the rest of the game.

At Edmonton, the winless Lions suffered their seventh straight defeat of the schedule as Eskis proved the better sloggers on Clarke Stadium's soggy turf while a 35-mile-an-hour north wind blew.

MANY FUMBLES

The official statistics showed 10 fumbles by Lions and Eskis but unofficially there were 24 including players' recoveries of their own bobbles.

FIGHT RESULTS

HAVANA—Wilfredo Ruz, 139½, Cuba, outpointed Henry Ferguson, 139½, Miami, 10.

MARACAIBO, Venezuela—Ramon Arias, Venezuela, stopped Masahiro Yamamoto, Japan, 9 (weights unavailable).

KAYOED IN FIRST

Swedish Boxer Upsets Machen

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's undefeated European heavyweight champion, Sunday boosted his chances for a world title fight by knocking out previously unbeaten Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., in 2:16 of the first round.

The sensational knockout moved the 25-year-old Swede into the top position among the contenders to world champion Floyd Patterson of New York.

Johansson, six feet and 198 pounds, dropped the favored 134-pound Californian three times, including the final knockout.

The capacity crowd of 55,000, which paid about $280,000, gave Johansson a tremendous ovation. Cheering fans tried to carry off Ingemar on their shoulders but he begged off and walked to his dressing room.

Johansson now has a perfect record of 21 victories, including 13 knockouts, since he turned pro after the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki, Finland.

The Swede had been ranked sixth among the heavyweight contenders by both the American National Boxing Association and Ring Magazine while Machen had been ranked second.

Among the spectators Sunday was American promoter Bill Rosenzohn. He offered Johansson $100,000 to meet Patterson in a title fight.

Cooper Wins, But What Else is New?

It was Dave Cooper night—again—at Western Speedway Saturday.

"The Flying Plumber," who takes more than his share of stock car events at the Langford oval, outdid himself this time.

Cooper became the first stock car driver to break 20 seconds at the Speedway as he timed in at 19.67. Digger O'Dell held the former record of 20.09.

Then, pushing his newest machine at top speed, Cooper went on to win the trophy dash and the mishap-marred 50-lap Vancouver Island championship for the sixth time.

He missed a clean sweep—when O'Dell captured the first heat.

A crowd of 3,370 watched Dave McLellan out-duel Hugh Humphries to win the jalopy main event.

A total of seven major mishaps marred the action-filled affair as a starting field of 14 cars was reduced to six before the race was over.

O'Dell and Bill Temple followed Cooper home in the main stocker event after Chuck Horne, who had driven a fine race in second place for 30 laps, spun out of contention.

Complete results:

Trophy dash—1. Dave Cooper; 2. Ray Palmer; 3. Phil Lambri; 4. Chuck Horne; 5. Bill Temple.
First heat—1. Digger O'Dell; 2. Ray Palmer; 3. Phil Lambri; 4. Chuck Horne; 5. Bill Temple.
Third heat—1. Dick Varley; 2. Larry Van Humber; 3. Dave Cooper; 4. Hugh Humphries; 5. Brian Wilson.
Main event—1. Dave Cooper; 2. Digger O'Dell; 3. Bill Temple.

"From the way it's pitted and blasted, I'd say it was some sort of launching pad!"

The soccer season is over for Larry DeCosta of Canadian Scottish just as it started.

The starry young goaltender suffered a broken leg in his team's Victoria and District Football League's season-opener against Gorge Hotel at Heywood Park Sunday.

And, although the Scots downed the Hotelmen 2-1, the loss of DeCosta made their victory a costly one.

In the other Sunday contests, Esquimalt downed Brodie's Bakery, 3-2, at Central Park, and Butler Brothers tripped Ladysmith, 4-3, at Ladysmith. Heaney's won their game with Tillicums, scheduled for Topaz Park, by default.

NANAIMO TIED
On Saturday, Victoria Kickers and Nanaimo kicked off the season by playing to a 4-4 tie at Royal Athletic Park.

DeCosta was injured when he was in collision with Robin Barnes while trying to clear the ball. Up to that point he had recorded a shutout while Bill Ackinlose and Dave Emery built up a 2-0 lead.

Tommy Moss came into the Scottish nets, holding the Gorge men scoreless, after Dick Nellstijn had booted one home shortly after DeCosta left the game.

At Central Park, George Parr scored in the first five minutes for Esquimalt but Leroy Bond tied it up 10 minutes later. Just before the half George Adams made it 2-1 for the winners, and Dick Austin put it on ice in the second half.

Ken Hibbert ended scoring for the game.

CROWE SHINES

Gary Crowe led Butlers at Ladysmith with two goals. Abtar Singh and Lionel Speller fired the other two. For Ladysmith, Charlie Constable connected twice and Stu Beattie collected a single.

On Saturday Nanaimo played most of the first half with only nine men, falling back 2-0 before knotting the count at 3-3 prior to the first-half whistle.

Bill Sampson led the Hub City crew with three goals. His third tally came early in the second half and gave Nanaimo the lead which stood up until the final minute of the game when Claus Heyde scored the tying goal from a scramble.

Upsets, Fights Mark Coast Soccer Activity
NANAIMO (CP)—The North Shore Carlings, in town with hopes of wrapping up the second half of the Pacific coast summer soccer championship, got a sharp deflating Sunday when Nanaimo handed them a 4-2 defeat in one of the hardest fought games seen here this season.

"The mainland team needed to win Sunday to sew up the second-half title. Nanaimo managed to stay one point behind fifth-place Hungaria as that squad edged second-place New Westminster Royals 2-1 at Vancouver.

The Nanaimo win came mainly on a first-half drive which saw them leading 3-1 at the half.

In another Saturday game, St. Andrew's beat the powerful Halecos 2-1. Four men were sent off the field by referee Pat Brady in the game.

Halecos' Neil McEachnie tangled with Jim Logan of St. Andrew's and both were sent off the field. Captain Art Hughes of Halecos remonstrated with the referee and was sent off too.

At 30 minutes of the second half, Doug Greig, of Halecos

AND NOW INTRODUCING MACHINE FOR MINNOWS!

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Fishermen who use minnows for bait will be able to pick them up next spring from roadside vending machines—like those dispensing cigarettes—at least in Michigan.

George Washburn, a fisheries manager at Saline, Mich., said Saturday his firm will station vending machines next spring along Michigan highways leading to major perch fishing lakes and streams. Fishermen will insert a coin; get a dozen fathead minnows back in a water-filled plastic bag.

"We have a chemical solution," Washburn said, "that will keep minnows alive long enough so the machines can be serviced at intervals of five days without loss. The solution kills bacteria and neutralizes viruses and toxic effects of waste matter."

Tomalin Cup Rests At Brockton Point

Brockton Point defeated Five C's by two runs and five wickets at Vancouver Sunday to retain the Tomalin Cup in the annual match between Victoria and Lower Mainland cricket champions.

The score was Five C's 67, Brockton Point 69 for six.

The match is between winners of the B.C. mainland cricket league and the Victoria and District Cricket Association.

Senior Ladies' Golf Tourney

Vancouver Island Senior Ladies' Golf Association will hold their eighth annual tournament Sept. 22 at Royal Colwood Golf Club.

Entries have been received from the four Victoria clubs and Nanaimo, Comox and Cowichan.

Defending the Mrs. Blair Peterson low gross trophy will be Mrs. G. Chisholm with Mrs. J. H. Wilson defending the Dolly Wilson low net trophy.

A third trophy defence will be made by Mrs. G. McRae, last year's winner of the Ethel M. Todd trophy as the grandmother shooting lowest net score.

Junior Tars Drub Defending Vamps

It's a new season, as Mayo Junior Vampires will ruefully testify.

The defending champions of Victoria's Junior Canadian Football League found out the hard way Sunday that there's no such thing as resting on last season's laurels.

McCoubrey Tops Rifle Marksmen

Bill McCoubrey won the second stage of the Weiler-Regan shoot Saturday at Heals Range with a score of 93 of a possible 100. Gary Abbott also fired 93 but was shut out in second spot on the countback.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Carol Foley, aged 11, of Portland, Maine, for her question:

What Are Stars Made Of?

Stars are made of stardust, made of densely packed stardust. The finest of all materials. It is composed of single atoms and fragments of atoms. In some stars, the atomic particles are packed tightly together and the stardust is dense and heavy. But in other stars, the particles of stardust are separated by great distances. Such a star is a gauzy ball of gases thinner than the air in a light bulb. The material in most stars is between these two extremes.

Our radiant sun is, in most respects, an average star. In its centre, the atomic particles are close together and fairly dense. At its surface, the gases are spread out more thinly. Around the glowing sun is the corona, a vast halo of gases so thin that a comet can pass safely through them. But the dense centre, the rarer surface and the filmy halo of the sun are all composed of single atoms and atomic particles in a gaseous state. Even in the dense centre of the sun the particles do not cling together to form a solid substance.

Stars vary in heat. Stars made of filmy, widespread stardust are usually red hot. Those

Heavier Than Any Known Substance

This is how we know that the stardust of a white dwarf is very densely packed. Its gases are composed almost entirely of atomic fragments. But the substance is heavier by far than any solid material known on earth. One of the white dwarfs is the Pup, a companion of Sirius, the Dog Star. Its weight and its size have been estimated. From these figures, we know that one pint of stardust from the Pup would tip a pair of scales on earth at 25 tons.

And yet this heavy substance is still gassy stardust. Its particles are separate and move about freely. A single atom may be compared to the Solar System. It has a central nucleus and a number of planetary electrons. Most of the Solar System is empty space and most of an atom is empty space. In dwarf stardust, the outer electrons may be stripped away in order to pack the atomic particles so closely together.

FOAMING 'DOG FOOD' TRIPS UP SMUGGLER

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto man's golden moment turned to dust when he went to Malton airport Saturday to pick up 10 cases of "dog food." Each dog food carton contained 24 bottles of beer—a rare sight since Ontario's beer strike began. In handling two bottles broke and police were told of the foaming liquid. They seized the beer, and told the man he would be charged with having liquor illegally.

Canadians Appeal For Negro's Life

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Governor James E. Folsom returned from a fishing trip Saturday and found 3,000 Canadian letters urging clemency for Jimmy Wilson.

The mail from Toronto prompted Folsom to call a Saturday night press conference to express his deep concern over the widespread attention given the 55-year-old Negro, condemned for a $195 robbery.

Folsom hinted strongly as he has before that he is willing to commute Wilson's sentence to life imprisonment "if I can find some excuse." He repeated that he will always spare the life of a condemned man if he can find a cause to do so.

The governor emphasized he was making no commitment.

RCAF to Mark Anniversary Of Battle

Famed wartime RCAF commander G/C E. A. (Bernie) McNab, OBE, DFC, CD, Vancouver, will be guest of honor at the annual Battle of Britain dinner to be held by the Air Force Officers' Association on Saturday at 6:45 p.m. in the officers' mess, 2455 AC & W Squadron, 865 Yates.

G/C McNab was commanding officer of the first RCAF unit to go overseas in the Second World War in the fall of 1940. This dinner will mark the 18th anniversary of the historic battle against the Luftwaffe during which 47 Canadian pilots were killed.

Among guests will be Capt. D. W. Groos, DFC, CD, commanding officer, HMCS Venture, representing the flag officer, Pacific coast; Col. P. S. Cooper, OBE, CD, commandant, Canadian Services College, Royal Roads; A/C A. D. Ross, GC, OBE, CD, commander, Five Air Division, RCAF, Vancouver, and other military personnel.

A few tickets are still available and may be obtained by contacting association secretary Percy Wilkinson at 4-2600.

Not since "Panama" has there been a picture like this. GENE KELLY as director, star, and choreographer, supported by a cast of internationally famous dancers, has done a superb job in creating this picture, which without the use of dialogue, combines art, music, and the dance, to tell three stories.
"Circus," which tells of a clown's unrequited love for a beautiful ballet dancer.
"Ring Around the Rosey" tells an amusing story of lovers with an original score and piano solo by Andre Previn.
"Stick the Sailor" combines live action with animation (as was done in "Anchors Aweigh") to Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade." Suite played by the MGM Symphony Orchestra conducted by Johnny Green.

LAWYERS START WORK

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Attorneys for Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds are to get together this week to work out a divorce that will end the three-year marriage of the film couple.

And with the lawyers entering the picture, the barrage of statements that marked the break-up of the marriage last week simmered to silence.

Fisher withdrew to an undisclosed hideaway to concentrate on his television show, which starts Sept. 30. Debbie spent a quiet day with her two children.

Eddie, Debbie Go Into Hiding and Elizabeth Taylor, whose dates with Fisher apparently touched off the marital explosion, stayed out of sight at her agent's home.

A friend of Fisher's said the 30-year-old singer will not contest Debbie's divorce action so that a messy trial can be avoided.

FIRE BREAKS LONG TRADITION

Penny's Peep Show Halted

LONDON (AP) — Fire stopped the girlie show at London's oldest vaudeville theatre Saturday night and broke a 150-year-old tradition.

Toy Repair Workshop Sought Here

Cosmopolitan Club wants a workshop where members can renew old toys for distribution this Christmas to needy children.

The facilities should include storage. The annual club program resulted in 4,000 gift packages last year, and it is hoped to surpass that record before Christmas of 1958.

The club already has a stockpile of toys and willing workers. Anyone who can help in providing a workshop should call Harold Lees, 643 Yates, at 2-1351.

The flames from a lumberyard blaze spread to Collins Music Hall and soon were licking at the backstage and roof of the theatre.

Chorus girls arriving for the evening performance of Pauline Penny's strip peep show found smoke pouring from the music hall and firemen shoving hoses through the windows.

On up the street in suburban Islington a line of men stood patiently among the curious spectators. They were waiting to get their money back from the theatre.

"We have never had to close before," said Mrs. Jessie Calman, a theatre official. The theatre opened in 1808 and had put on a show six nights a week since, even through the bombing of two world wars.

Franz Liszt, the Hungarian pianist and composer who died in 1886, made his musical debut at age nine.

We proudly present a new high in motion picture entertainment
Not since "Panama" has there been a picture like this. GENE KELLY as director, star, and choreographer, supported by a cast of internationally famous dancers, has done a superb job in creating this picture, which without the use of dialogue, combines art, music, and the dance, to tell three stories.
"Circus," which tells of a clown's unrequited love for a beautiful ballet dancer.
"Ring Around the Rosey" tells an amusing story of lovers with an original score and piano solo by Andre Previn.
"Stick the Sailor" combines live action with animation (as was done in "Anchors Aweigh") to Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade." Suite played by the MGM Symphony Orchestra conducted by Johnny Green.

Finlayson Pledges 'Crusade to House'

By PETE LOUDON
Times Political Reporter

An early crusade to carry a revitalized, unified Conservative party into the B.C. legislature was promised Saturday by Deane Finlayson on his re-election by a slim majority to party leadership.

"After just a few days of rest," the Nanaimo realtor stated, "I am going to start on the job you have given me."

The party has no members in the 52-seat House.

Finlayson's first action, while the Vancouver Hotel convention shouting was still echoing, was to accept a challenge by Premier W. A. C. Bennett to debate the merits or faults in the financial structure of the Social Credit government.

AT VANCOUVER

"I will be glad to accept his challenge at his convenience," he said the verbal duel should be fought "at a public forum in the city of Vancouver."

Mr. Finlayson's victory was a slim one.

He defeated his only rival, Dr. Desmond F. "Cap" Kidd by only 11 votes in a spirited election which saw 700 ballots cast, 180 as proxy votes carried as extra ammunition by some of the 520 delegates registered.

The election, which climaxed a three-day meet, was in doubt until the final moments. Other business at the convention was given short shrift.

REAL WORK

Business sessions held before the election drew crowds of only 50 or 100 delegates. The real work was going on in hotel rooms and lobbies. Delegates from all 12 provincial constituencies were combed through by smooth-working salesmen for the two candidates.

DEANE FINLAYSON
... smiling Tory chief

They used bands, booze and ballyhoo around the clock. Reports were current, but never proved, that the prime minister wants this man, the minister of justice wants that one.

There was bitterness in the campaigning. A delegate belabored reporters in the press room because they wouldn't write his bald charges that one side was offering as high as $125 for a vote in some cases.

"RIGGED VOTE"

Even after the contest, there were some delegates crying it was a "rigged vote"—charging dishonesty in the system of proxy voting, threatening to upset the vote because some delegates were campaign buttons up to polling time.

But on the whole, the delegates appeared to take note of warnings issued by every main speaker: unless they can forget leadership favorites and go forward as a team, they will never win sympathy of the voters.

"Show me a party rotten with rivalries and I'll show you a group more inclined toward patronage than toward building good government," a back room orator said.

Both leadership candidates promised in their pre-election speeches, whoever was the loser, he would immediately place his full support before the other man.

Spokesman for federal Conservative Association, Allister Grosart, who had the helm of the Diefenbaker campaign, gave similar assurance.

UNANIMOUS

Dr. Kidd was as good as his word. He was the first to arise when news of Mr. Finlayson's election was made public.

He moved the Finlayson election be made unanimous.

"I hope Deane can find a place in the party for me to work," Mr. Finlayson replied: "The support of Dr. Kidd and every one of his followers I urgently need and hereby accept."

When the results of the balloting was announced, Mr. Finlayson said his first desire was to introduce his mother and his daughter. But there was such a surge of well-wishers and reporters to the stage, the victorious candidate lost the microphone.

"WELDING JOB"

When he regained his composure, Mr. Finlayson said the immediate task was "welding the Conservative party into a mighty, fighting political machine."

To do this he said the party must reach out into every walk of life, "... the men who hold union cards, the farmers, loggers ... let us say join with us in this great crusade."

It was reported Mr. Finlayson's hunting recreation in the son was setting out for a few Kamloops area.

Anscomb Busy At Convention

By PETE L. UDON
(Times Political Reporter)

Former B. C. Conservative leader and coalition finance minister Herbert Anscombe was in busy attendance at the Vancouver Tory convention—a fact of special significance to some political pundits on the scene.

"After all," reasoned a spokesman from the Victoria group, "we have elected Deane leader, but we haven't got him a seat in the legislature."

In the next election, Mr. Anscombe is considered a likely candidate.

If he's elected, and Mr. Finlayson continues his losing ways at the polls, the veteran legislator could end up as House leader of the party.

And after that?

The convention appeared to sidestep decisions on several policy resolutions, sending them back in many cases to the local organizations for resubmission. Only about 100 delegates attended most business sessions—and a session on organization started with less than 50 in the hall.

The Tory labor policy is still indecisive.

Resolutions submitted had called for compulsory arbitration on one hand, and extension of the right to strike to civil servants, on the other.

The first was defeated, the second tabled.

Also tabled was a resolution favoring establishment of an "authoritative body" to have court powers in settling labor-management disputes.

Debate on the question of civil servants striking involved some Victoria delegates.

Insurance man Robert Anderson agreed the government employees should have the rights of all other workers, but there was a danger "foreign powers could control the civil service of B.C." because it is possible, he thought, for foreign powers to gain control of trade unions.

The resolution supporting compulsory arbitration brought a reminder from Comox delegate Harry McQuillan, MP, that 207 Conservatives were sent to Ottawa this year on a platform opposing this step.

Allan Ainsworth of Vancouver, who acted as credentials chairman for the convention, was elected new provincial president of the party, replacing Gowan Guest.

Mr. Guest quit a few months ago to become private secretary to the prime minister, but returned for the convention.

Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Mary Southin, Vancouver; second vice-president, Galt Wilson, White Rock; third vice-president, Mrs. Nora Lindsay, Saanich; fourth vice-president, Dr. Charles Wright, Trail; fifth vice-president, Athole Black, Kamloops, and sixth vice-president, Gwen Stirling, Kelowna.

The secretary is Derrick Humphreys of North Vancouver and treasurer Frank Dorchester, Vancouver.

Audubon Screen Tours Run Here Starting Sept. 26

The popular Audubon Screen Tours, featuring colored nature movies taken by some of United States top cameramen, will be held again this fall and winter.

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, said today.

The movies will be shown at the Oak Bay Junior High School.

First on this season's program will be William H. Wagoner of Homestead, Florida, who will show his wildlife movie on Friday, Sept. 26. It will depict animal and bird life in the Everglades.

On Nov. 25, Robert C. Hermes, will show a colored movie depicting Venezuelan wildlife.

School Lands Issue Parley Now Planned

Education Minister Leslie Peterson will arrange a meeting of school board and city hall officials to thrash out a wrangle over city-owned lands.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said last week.

Decision to hold the meeting was reached during an interview of the minister by city finance committee.

Involved are about a dozen lots, totalling some six acres in area, scattered throughout the city, which were reserved for school purposes 14 years ago.

City council has passed a resolution to put the lands up for sale because they have not been developed. The school board wants the reserve to be maintained.

Mr. Peterson's attempt to mediate the dispute will be attended by board officials and Ald. A. I. Curtis, City Manager C. C. Wyatt and City Solicitor T. P. O'Grady. No date has been set.

Tourist Train Runs Off Track

BONN, Germany (AP)—The cog train that runs up to the Drachenfels above the Rhine plunged from its track Sunday night, killing 18 persons. Sixty others were injured.

A number of European tourists were among the victims.

The accident was the first in the 75 years that the train has been operating. The picturesque railway trip has been a feature for tourists visiting the Rhine-land and the train has carried more than a million persons up the steep incline.

Esquimalt Sailor Killed As Car Speeds Off Dock

An Esquimalt-based sailor drowned Sunday at 7.30 a.m. when he drove a car at high speed off the end of the government wharf at Cowichan Bay.

Dead is PO William G. Hutchison, 27, of HMCS Ontario.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Walter Hartmann, 711 Johnson, was remanded to Tuesday in city police court today on a charge of wilful damage over $50.

More than $1,200 damage was done to shrubs and flowers in the Crystal Garden on Sunday police said.

The remand was to obtain a German interpreter.

Inspection of classrooms and introduction of teachers will comprise the program at the first meeting of Victoria West PTA this season Tuesday, 8 p.m., in the school auditorium.

Two men each were fined $250 in city police court today when found guilty of impaired driving.

They were James C. Turner, 1133 Reynolds, and Anthony Gordon-Wilson, RCN. Turner's offence took place Saturday when he hit the rear of another car on Bay Street. He made a plea to the court for leniency.

Gordon-Wilson hit a dog Friday on Douglas in the 2900 block and failed to stop. He was charged three blocks by a motorcycle constable.

"I didn't know whether it was a dog or a man," police evidence disclosed the accused as stating.

Victoria Boys' Band will hold its first practice of the season Tuesday 6.45 p.m. at 1318 Broad Street.

The practice will include introduction of new members and further meetings will be held each Tuesday throughout the winter.

Speaker at a Men's Fellowship dinner tonight at 6.30 in Glad Tidings Tabernacle will be Billy Graham crusades "advance man" Ben Bauer from Mount Vernon, Washington.

John Kidd, director of the Canadian Citizenship Council at Ottawa, will speak at a meeting of the Greater Victoria Citizenship Council in room 209, Victoria College, 8 p.m. Thursday. Canadians receiving their citizenship at the Court House 10.30 a.m. Friday will be welcomed by the council at a coffee party to follow.

RCMP in Sidney today said they had checked on a report that a green pick-up truck involved in an unsolved hit and run fatality was abandoned in bush near Sidney but found no sign of the vehicle.

Police are still searching for the truck which was involved in the death July 5 of Harry Mills, 78, of 1403 Ryan.

'COMPOSER' LODGER FINED FOR SOLOS

An unemployed logger who likes to "sing my own compositions" although his landlord objected, was fined $10 in city police court today for being under the influence of drink in a public place.

Lewis Bert Balicki, 2403 Douglas, told court his landlord told him to stop his singing, "and also wanted to raise the rent" and that if Balicki didn't stop singing, he would call police.

Police testimony was that the accused came out on the street "hollering and waving his arms," after they had told him to quieten down.

"I sometimes talk to myself. I compose letters aloud," Balicki said.

'Vigorous Opposition' Planned By B.C. on Freight Rate Boost

The B.C. government will "vigorously oppose" a new 19 per cent increase in railway freight rates, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today.

He suggested the government attack would maintain Canadian railways should institute a crash program of modernization, which would increase efficiency and reduce the need for rate increases.

He said a freight rate increase would greatly harm basic industries in this province, pricing the products out of eastern markets.

FAST RULING

The railways have announced they will seek a fast ruling from the Board of Transport at Ottawa. They have openly proposed to settle all contract disputes with 160,000 Canadian railway workers, if the rate increase is permitted.

Cost of fighting industrial program increases has far exceeded the budgeted allowance of the B.C. government so far this year, it was learned today.

Two hundred men employed at Moore-Whittington Lumber Company here today began a three-day week operation.

The company, running out of storage space for its export lumber, said the mills will shut down completely if the longshoremen's strike is not over by Sept. 26.

A Moore-Whittington official said the company would continue to operate its logging camps "probably until the end of October."

Meanwhile, 12 men of the 25 employed at Victoria grain elevator were laid off at the end of last week, also as a result of the dock strike.

Cy Head, manager, said the elevator will be filled in a week, at which time it is expected the other 13 men will be out of work.

Mental Hospital 'Go-Ahead' Urged by Reeve

Saanich Protests Shelving Decision

Saanich will protest a government decision cancelling plans for the construction of a $1,000,000 mental hospital on Vancouver Island, Reeve George Chatterton said today.

The reeve said council will ask the government to reconsider its decision and to construct the hospital in the municipality.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black recently announced that plans for the hospital had been shelved because of lack of trained personnel to staff it.

GO AHEAD

The reeve said regardless of whether there was sufficient trained personnel or not, the government should go ahead with its hospital plans.

"I don't consider the excuse reasonable," he said. "If there is a need for a mental hospital it should be built."

He noted that a few years ago there was a shortage of teachers but the school building program went on as usual.

Saanich council, he said, would do all it could to assist the government in finding a suitable site for the hospital.

Mistaken for Deer By Brother-In-Law

A Saanich 14-year-old on his first hunting trip was shot to death Saturday by his brother-in-law in Vancouver Island's first 1958-59 hunting season fatality.

Timothy Wayne Heal, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hugh Heal, 821 Vernon, is believed to have been killed instantly with a shot in the head fired by William Fluskey, 858 Old Esquimalt, near Sooke at 2.45 p.m.

Fluskey said he fired at what he thought was the head of a deer in a fern bed a quarter of a mile north of the Grouse Nest Lodge immediately west of Gillespie Road.

"I saw what looked like the point of a deer and a brown patch below it. I shot just below the horn," he said.

DIDN'T KNOW

He said he did not know his brother-in-law was in the same patch of fern.

Police said Fluskey was using a .303 army rifle converted to a sporting rifle.

Mr. Heal said his son, who had been with him as Fluskey started through the fern bed, also began walking through the ferns near the same end.

The father said he stood on a rock outcrop watching his son. They both knew Fluskey was in the heavy growth, Mr. Heal said.

The party was on its way home when they decided Fluskey would go into the bed.

"I said to him I'd go a little higher. Maybe he thought I was going up higher than I did. The boy was with me before going into the ferns," Mr. Heal said.

The father said although it was his son's first hunting trip he was a capable boy and was familiar with gun handling.

He was a student at S. J. Willis Junior High School.

Sooke RCMP said an inquest is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday at Hayward's funeral home, which will announce arrangements later.

The Heals have two other children at home, Wilfred Thomas, 21, and Judy, 18. A daughter Beverly, 25, is married to Fluskey.

'SERVE PUBLIC FIRST'

New Look Sought For Labor Laws

By HAL MALONE

B.C.'s industrial cold war probably could be resolved if labor and management placed the public ahead of their own interests, a representative of management said today.

To achieve this peace, E. L. Harrison, vice-president, industrial relations, B.C. Packers Ltd., called for a "second look" at existing labor legislation. He reiterated recommendations made by the B.C. Chamber of Commerce to the provincial cabinet Friday.

They called for elimination of conciliation boards "because we believe there is better opportunity to settle industrial disputes if we do not have boards dealing in the principle of compromise," and "holding both parties responsible for the faithful observance of the terms of an agreement once reached."

"The chamber," he said, "believes good industrial relations cannot be created by legislation. To the extent that legislation is necessary it should be designed to ensure a proper balance of right and responsibility by both parties with due regard at all times to the public interest."

The chamber, he said, is opposed to any legislation which permits either side to acquire or exercise unreasonable power over either group or the public.

The chamber's brief also suggested the Trade Union Act be rewritten so unions will be considered as legal entities, responsible for their actions.

Mr. Harrison pointed to the longshore tie-up as leaving B.C. "economically dead."

"If there was ever a strike contrary to the public interest this is it."

Mr. Bonner withheld comment on this however stating: "We have just received the application and have not had time to study it."

Mr. Harrison denied labor's claims that "big business is out to kill unions."

"If recent management meetings, designed to explore improved management-labor relations, expansion of trade, stimulation of business and efficiency of operation, constitute a conspiracy against labor, then we plead guilty."

Mr. Harrison's remarks were contained in a copy of his address released to the press before the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

PUBLISHER'S NOTEBOOK

A Day at the Races

There is something about a day at the races which is very enjoyable, even if you are not a horseman—and provided you haven't wagered the rent money on some spavined steed which would be more gainfully employed on the tally-ho.

I find the study of patrons as interesting (and as confusing) as the line on the beasts themselves. There are women in the crowd who look as though they are on furlough from a Sunday school class. There are others who look like alumnae of the correctional home. There are rich men, ditch-diggers and church wardens.

They are all attracted, one supposes, by a common desire: to make a fast buck. But, since "all horse players die broke," and they know it, they go about their business with a philosophic air which I find curiously appealing.

They will listen patiently, and nod solemnly, when you explain how your horse was nipped at the wire, how your wife touted you off the winner, or how the jockey man-handled the nag coming into the stretch. This is part of the ritual.

I confess to a heart-quicken when the "Post call" is sounded or when Jack Short, the finest announcer in North America, cries: "... and there they go!" The race itself is quickly over: a confusion of sights and sounds mounting inexorably to a thunder of tympani as the horses gallop for the wire.

Then the same old stories resume. Only the names of the horses are changed.

I think an argument can be made, however, for the opinion that the half-hour between races is the most enjoyable part of the day. This is when the camaraderie of horse players achieves its finest flower.

You can discuss your losses over a hamburger, from which powerful onion-rings distend. You can stroll to the paddock, and size up the entries in the next race. Or you can sit and chat with your neighbor, weigh his selections, study the form—and then bet a few dubs on a horse on the eminently logical grounds that he has the same name as your third cousin's barber in Kankakee, Ill.

And perhaps, if you have the time, you can look at the trees, the mountains, and the water, and conclude that Sandown—with million-dollar amenities—could be one of the most beautiful tracks in the country.

It's all very easy-going, amiable, and pleasant. And when, at the end of the day, you learn that these people have wagered $78,000 in a few hours, you are brought up short with the realization that a four-day "handle" of this size would finance the operations of the Community Chest for a whole year.

Cosy Sock Slippers . . . Warm as a Blazing Fire

By PENNY SAVER

Sock slippers are an old favorite . . . but now you poor souls with little circulation in your feet will find they're even better! Imagine, when you've walked or stood on a cold street for a few hours, how nice it is to dash home and curl your feet up before a fire?

Well, that's the same feeling these new padded house sock slippers give . . . only better! You can feel the warmth wherever you go. They're in all sizes for all the family and sell at $2.95.

Oh, no! It's certainly not too early to buy those wintertime woolies! Fall breezes are getting cooler every day, so it's high time if you are susceptible to chills, to buy a pair or two of these marvellously warm and cosy vests or combinations. They're made in England and are guaranteed unshrinkable. Two good reasons why they're for you!

Then they are inexpensive . . . just $1.25 per vest!

All in one piece for warmth and comfort, are the all-wool short-sleeved combination undergarments. These finely knit outfits will keep you warm as toast in the sharpest of drafts and the bitter winds. The combinations are long wearing and come in a variety of sizes at $7.95 each.

Color for Kitchen

Send 35 cents (coins) for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to Times Household Dept., 60 Front St., West, Toronto, Ont. Print plainly, name, address, pattern number.

Send 25 cents more for a copy of our Alice Brooks Needlecraft Catalogue. Two complete patterns are printed right in the book . . . plus a variety of designs that you will want to order: crochet, knitting, embroidery, huck weaving, quilts, toys, dolls.

For my readers who find "woolies" just a little too warm (especially if they're living and working in well-heated buildings), how about wearing the English nylon-orlon mix vests? Now these are so attractive and feminine, you'll want several in your wardrobe . . . and costly? No, not at all!

They're priced at $1.25 and up.

Be warm and cosy this fall in warm undies . . . and call me at 2-3131; I'll tell you where to find them!

On Etiquette

When to Answer an Invitation:

As I was growing up, I was taught that any invitation demands an answer, and, for that reason, inscribing an RSVP to anything was a not necessary or proper. We have just had a church wedding with the reception for everybody afterwards in the church parlors. I note that you refer to the reply request inscription now and then in your columns. When ordering the invitations, I double-checked with the saleswoman about the RSVP and she too said it isn't proper. I am confused and hope you will clarify this or explain your stand, for I always thought that a written request for a reply was an insult.

Louise Davis Answers:

It is true that an invitation that doesn't include a request for a reply is not acknowledged. But to say it is an insult to request a reply to an invitation is not correct. According to your theory, the words "please reply" or the letters "RSVP" would be non-existent for invitations of all kinds. But they do exist when hosts and hostesses wish to know the exact number of guests they will have. With some weddings where receptions are also held at the church, the percentage of guests can be pretty accurately determined from the number of invitations issued. If refreshments are simple, such as punch or canapés, food-providing is flexible and a few more or a couple to Times Household few less people makes little or no difference. A hostess then, usually doesn't expect a written reply, so doesn't ask for it. However, for a sit-down breakfast or dinner, it is necessary to know the exact number, so the invitations are inscribed with the RSVP. Invitations to affairs such as an Open House or an At Home rarely have requests for replies and therefore no acknowledgments are sent.

Heirloom Diamond Worn by Bride As 'Something Old' at Wedding

An heirloom diamond engagement ring presented to the groom's mother in 1902 by his grandfather who had hand made and designed it, was worn by lovely bride Miss Barbara Mary Hawkes at her wedding Saturday night.

She was united in marriage with James Montague Little, in a ceremony in St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Mount Newton Cross Road.

Rev. O. L. Foster officiated. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Hawkes of Moss Street and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matthew Little of Cedar Hill Road.

White and blush pink chrysanthemums decorated the church.

For her marriage the dark-haired bride chose a floor-length taffeta faille gown en train.

Speak Vows At Naden

White embossed nylon formed the gown worn by bride Miss Gracia Cella Carlsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Griffiths, for her wedding recently to Terence William Seal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Seal of Calgary.

St. Andrew's Chapel, HMCS Naden, was the setting for the ceremony conducted by Rev. W. R. Dalton. Traditional wedding music was played by organist Lt. T. Kady, RCN.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her three-quarter-length gown was fashioned with neckline and cap sleeves of turquoise silk taffeta. Her Juliet cap of lace held her misty veil and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli centred with pink roses and sweet peas.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Heather Griffiths, wore a turquoise and blue silk taffeta dress. Her headdress was a bandeau of silk leaves en tone. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white roses and mauve and white asters.

Frank Labute was best man and usher was William Greenwood.

Miniature china angels and pink flowers decorated the bridal table on which stood the two-tier cake at the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Newnham on Kingston Street. Raymond Grice proposed the toast.

An imported beige wool suit with brown accessories and a cloche in autumn gold silk straw, were worn by the bride for her wedding trip to California. She had a rosebud corsage.

The couple will make their home at 1420 Dallas Road.

University Women's Club, Wednesday, 8 p.m. at Business and Professional Women's Club, Government Street.

Stylish with classic simplicity, the gown was fashioned with a billowing skirt extending from a "swag" draped front piece caught up at the back to form a bustle. A picture neckline enhanced the fitted bodice, trimmed with Gulpure lace. Her chapel-length veil mistled from an appliqued taffeta bandeau, and she carried a cascade of white roses and green ivy. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She was given in marriage by her father.

Imperial blue dresses were worn by bridesmaids Miss Joan Sutherland and Miss Judy Murphy. The gowns were identically styled on princess lines, featuring bouffant skirts with a wide panel at the back, caught up under the hem to give a pouffe effect. They had matching fabric bandeaux and carried bouquets of carnations, gardenias and ivy.

David Watkins was best man and ushers were Murray Little and Richard Little.

Robert P. Hawkes proposed the toast at a reception in Brenta Lodge following the wedding.

A three-tier cake, baked by mother of the groom, centred the bridal table. It was flanked by candles and pink and white chrysanthemums.

Peter Dawe, soloist, sang "O Promise Me" with Miss Merle Emery as accompanist.

Mother of the bride wore a blue lace sheath style ensemble for the wedding. Her accessories were in rose and she had a corsage of rapture roses. Deep turquoise tones were in the gown worn by the groom's mother. Her accessories were beige and she had a corsage of pink roses.

People More Interesting Than Puttering in Garden

By MAUREEN DUFFUS

"Gardening? Not interested. I'm too interested in people to spend my time working by myself in the garden."

Mrs. R. G. McKee, president of the Women's Canadian Club speaking.

During a busy life as teacher, newspaper writer, active clubwoman and mother of two, McKee has always chosen to be out and about with people.

It makes her a natural for club leadership.

Young children didn't keep her tied to the house, either. When Mrs. McKee lived in Kamloops (her husband was with the forest service) her daughter was just a toddler.

"I was talked into writing for the social pages of the Kamloops paper by editor Eddie McLean, and I can remember dragging my little girl along with me as I rushed about on my stories."

The "little girl" is now married, lives in Eastern Canada and has a daughter of her own.

One thing Mrs. McKee does

Mrs. R. G. McKee, president of the Women's Canadian Club like about the business of house-keeping is cooking.

"My family jokes about it. When I'm dead tired I always relax by cooking. They say 'look at her now, she must be worn out, she's so busy in the kitchen.'"

Experiments With New Cake Recipe

Interviewed at her attractive old home on Sutej Street, Mrs. McKee was experimenting with a new cake recipe, and was preparing fruit for a cake for her son to take over to University of British Columbia, where he is studying engineering.

Born in Scotland, Mrs. McKee came to Canada when she was very young. She attended St. James Douglas School and Victoria High School, trained as a teacher, and taught at Girls' Central and in Victoria West. After she married, she travelled around the province for 15 years, living in Prince George and Kamloops for most of the time.

But she was glad to get back to Victoria, which she loves. Mrs. McKee has been on the executive of the Women's Canadian Club for the past 10 years, as publicity convener, secretary, vice-president, and now as president.

"It's a fascinating experience to get up and address an audience of 800 or 900 women. My first try, I thought at first I couldn't do it, but once I got started I quite enjoyed it."

She speaks enthusiastically of the club.

"The idea really is to bring good speakers before the women."

Here at Convention

Miss Nazla Dane, Toronto, organizer of education programs for the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association is in Victoria to attend meetings of the Canadian Education Association this week. Miss Dane who tours the country giving talks to adult and children's groups on development in the life insurance business and how to manage money, is staying at the Empress Hotel. She is provincial president of Ontario Business and Professional Women's Clubs and a member of the Inter-Club Council for women in public affairs in Toronto, the Council of Women, the Women's Canadian Club, the Soroptimist Club, the Order of the Eastern Star and the Young Women's Christian Association.

Newlyweds to Attend University

Following a honeymoon in Banff, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arthur Phillips plan to make their home in Saskatoon, where both bride and groom will attend university.

Bride is the former Donna Carolyn Speers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Speers. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Phillips. Rev. E. J. Staley officiated at the ceremony Saturday evening in Wilkinson Road United Church. Gold-toned autumn flowers decorated the church for the service, at which L. King was organist and soloist was Eugene Burchill.

Nurses Busy During Summer

Report given by Miss Elizabeth Riddell at meeting of the board of the Victorian Order of Nurses, showed that 5,823 visits were made by nurses during the three summer months. Mrs. Brenda Wilkin, physiotherapist, made 166 visits to 15 patients.

Parentcraft classes were well attended with 52 mothers enrolled for discussion and 60 registered for exercises.

Miss Esther Janzow, a Royal Columbian Hospital graduate, joined the VON staff in August. She has recently completed a two-year study at University of British Columbia for her Bachelor of Science degree.

Other reports were given by Roger Peachey, secretary; A. M. J. Round, treasurer; H. B. Nash, financial; Lance deS. Duke, transportation; and W. Maude-Moore, View Royal Community. Miss Ruby Simpson presided.

DEAR ABBY . . .

CALLING ALL GIRLS!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know you aren't running a matrimonial bureau but maybe you can help me? I am 36 years old and want to marry a decent woman who wants a good, non-drinking husband who will take good care of her. I've never been married and everywhere I look I find women who want a meal-ticket and a drinking partner. Where are the respectable ones? I am not a high-liver but I've saved my money and own my own car, don't owe a cent in the world and have a nice apartment with my own furniture. I can do up laundry and cook a meal as good as any woman, and I also love pets and children. How are my chances? DANNY

Mother's Wedding Gown Worn by Saturday Bride

Wearing her mother's wedding dress of silk tulle lace over ivory satin, Kathleen Elizabeth Carver became the bride of Archie Lawton-Courtall at a ceremony in St. Mark's Church Saturday evening.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Carver, and the groom's guardians are his grandfather, H. J. Courtall, and his aunt, Miss M. Courtall. Canon R. Willis officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. Carver gave his daughter in marriage. Her lovely gown was fashioned on long princess lines, and with it she wore a chapel veil of fine net, held by a headpiece of pearl trimmed lace. For "something old" she carried an heirloom lace handkerchief, and her tiny pearl earrings were a gift from the groom. Her cascade bouquet was of pale pink rosebuds.

As matron of honor Mrs. Gail Wicks wore pale blue satin with royal blue panels at the back, and a royal blue feather hat. She carried a crescent bouquet of pale blue tinted chrysanthemums. Mrs. Llanne Miles, bridesmatron, was in a similar gown of pale pink satin with panels of cerise, and a cerise feather hat. Her crescent bouquet was of pale pink chrysanthemums.

Best man was Roger Edwards, and ushers were Roy Derry and Art Green. Cec Jones proposed the toast to the bride at a reception in Victoria Golf Club, which was decorated with arrangements of autumn flowers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Can Change Your Underpinnings to Pin-Ups

It is amazing how quickly the eye becomes accustomed to new scenes and new styles. Those women who have not taken the sack or chemise to their silhouettes are beginning to feel out of date with past skirt lengths. I must admit that I have already had my skirts shortened two inches and fear that soon I will have to give another inch or so.

Of course you know what this means! Leg contour is becoming a much more important part of the figure ensemble than it has been for quite a few years. However, take hope. You can change your underpinnings into pin-ups, or at least you can improve the shape of your legs greatly.

First let me give you two exercises which will flatter your general leg contour.

1. Sit on the floor with your legs straight and lean back on your hands. Point the toes hard, hold for a few moments, relax, continue.

2. Deep knee bends are firming to the legs, especially the calves. Stand by a chair, place your hand on the chair for balance, bend the knees all the way down. Straighten the knees and return to starting position. The important thing to remember in this exercise is to keep the back straight. Do not bend at the waist.

The following is the best exercise I know for reducing the calf: Sit on the floor and lean back on your elbows, legs straight. Lift the left leg up and, as you do so point the toes back toward the head.

Lower leg to the floor. Do the same thing with the right leg and continue, alternating left and right.

The following exercise will increase calf contour: Stand with your left side toward the wall, and place the left hand on the wall for support. Rise as high as you possibly can on your toes. With heels still off the floor, bend the knees halfway down. Straighten the knees and again rise high on the toes. Continue. The heels do not touch the floor during this exercise.

Let's be honest—the most flattering skirt length for any leg is midway on the calf. However, this loses its charm when it makes you look noticeably old-fashioned.

If you would like to have my leaflet titled "Take Steps Toward Lovely Legs," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEPARTMENT OF CITIZENSHIP AND IMMIGRATION

INDIAN AFFAIRS BRANCH

addressed to the Director, Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Citizenship and Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, will be received in the office of the Secretary, until 3:00 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), on October 7, 1958, for the construction by contract

1—Two-Three-Bedroom Staff Residence, Alberni Indian Residential School, West Coast Indian Agency, B.C. Plan Index No. 1440.

2—A Three-Three-Bedroom Indian Day School with Diesel Electric Power House at Klapix, Babine Indian Agency, B.C. Plan Index No. 1425.

A Standard Two-Three-Bedroom Staff Residence at Klapix, Babine Indian Agency, B.C. Plan Index No. 1230.

To receive consideration, a separate tender must be submitted for each project.

Contractors shall tender in complete accordance with the drawings, specifications, and tendering documents supplied by the Department for that purpose. Contractors may tender on one or more of these projects.

The drawings, specifications and other documents will be exhibited at the following points from Sept. 10, 1958, until Oct. 3, 1958, inclusive:

1—W. S. Arnel, Indian Commissioner for B.C., 416 Federal Building, Vancouver, B.C.

2—N. W. Garry, Superintendent of Indian Agency, Port Alberni, B.C.

3—W. A. Bailey, Superintendent of Indian Agency, Hazelton, B.C.

General Instructions, Tendering Documents and Specifications are obtainable at the above offices upon deposit of $14.00 (plus $1.00 per set of drawings) in the form of a certified cheque made payable to the Receiver General of Canada. This deposit will be refunded upon return of the drawings and specifications in the condition to the Chief Engineer, Engineering and Construction Division, Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Citizenship and Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, within one month from the date on which tenders close.

To receive consideration, tenders must be submitted on the tender forms provided and must be accompanied by a certified cheque drawn on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the Receiver General of Canada in an amount equal to ten per cent (10%) of the tender price of the project.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all tenders, and the lowest tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Ancient Rites Mark Jewish New Year Here

Victoria's Jewish community, the oldest in western Canada, began celebrating at sundown Sunday the year 5719 with traditional Rosh Hashana ceremonies at the Jewish Temple Emanuel, Blanshard and Pandora.

The Jewish New Year also marks the centennial of Jewry in British Columbia.

GREETINGS FROM PM

The Victoria community received greetings from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, Opposition Leader Lester Pearson and Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

The New Year event has special significance for Victoria Jews, as it marks the centennial anniversary of the Hebrew Congregation Emanuel.

The first recorded meeting of a group of Jews in B.C. was held in "Mr. Gambitz' store on Government Street," on Sept. 9 and 10, 1858.

One of the founders was Joseph Boscowitz, manager of the firm of Hutchison, Kohl & Co., which evolved into the Alaska Commercial Co., the lessees of the fur seal islands of the Bering Sea.

David Shipper, a fur merchant, also took an active part in forming the congregation.

OIL BROKER STRIKES IT RICH AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Charlie Coe, 34-year-old Oklahoma oil broker, won the National Amateur Golf Championship for the second time Saturday, defeating young Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., 5 and 4 in the 36-hole final on the Olympic Club lake course.

Coe, who won his first title in 1949, crushed his 21-year-old opponent with a steady string of pars in the afternoon after leading only 2-up at the end of the morning 18 holes.

After cutting his deficit to one hole when Coe played the short 21st miserably, Aaron committed a damaging series of errors while Coe shot nearly perfect golf. Coe won five straight holes to reach the 27-hole turn 6-up. He closed out the match on the 32nd.

Radiation Policing Urged as A-Meet Ends

GENEVA (UPI)—The atoms-for-peace conference ended last week with an urgent West European call for international atomic regulations to protect mankind from deadly radiation in the nuclear age.

Five thousand atom experts from 69 nations wound up two weeks of meetings here with a barrage of speeches, technical papers and reports reflecting both their fears and hopes for the future.

A Dutch paper, sponsored by the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences, said "international regulation in regard to radioactive hazards is urgently required."

The Dutch delegation warned of the international hazards inherent in dumping radio-active wastes and of possible accidents to nuclear-powered ships, planes and power plants.

The Dutch report urged study of radiation hazards by a group of experts who would then lay down the basis for an eventual international agreement to minimize such dangers.

of them and flown in fear and trembling from the pest-ridden area. We refer to the mosquitoes, which have swarmed in their millions throughout all parts of the district.

Now is the time for the responsible authorities to determine that the plague will not be tolerated next year. These diminutive blood-suckers have cost resident pain and exasperation. They have cost us money in the visitors they drove away. In each section of the district there is an authority responsible for the administration of the area. These authorities should right now prepare to exterminate the pest early in the new year.

Another year of swatting and scratching could well drive us all crazy.

We'll Go Along

CAMPBELL RIVER COURIER — Mr. George Home, secretary-treasurer of the B.C. Federation of Labor, in an address to the Vancouver Rotary Club last week, has come up with a point that we can go along with.

Mr. Home has called on the government to set up a "conference broad enough to examine the whole economic climate of B.C."

"It would be a conference of labor, management and municipal leaders. It would deal principally with unemployment, its causes and cures, and would work towards better understanding between management and labor," he said.

There is no doubt that Mr. Home realizes all is not well in labor ranks, they have their problems just as does management and that is the reason we feel the time is ripe for a conference of this kind.

The conference should be conducted in an atmosphere of mutual trust without recriminations. We have a feeling that Mr. Home is sincere in his desire for a cessation of labor strife and, too, we are sure that management will go more than half way to help bring about better labor-management relations.

Aldermen rose for a minute's silence in tribute to the late John A. Worthington, who died Sept. 3. Mr. Worthington served as an alderman for 18 years and was active in several civic organizations before his retirement.

The city's sign bylaw was referred to public works committee for review and recommendations to bring controls up to date.

City solicitor was instructed to draw up a bylaw which would set up a reserve fund for future development of Thetis Lake Park.

Council rejected a public works committee recommendation that a "no stopping" sign be erected on the south side of Fort between Vancouver and the Speedy Car Wash. Several aldermen argued it would create discrimination against the car wash operator.

A bylaw requested by barber-shop operators requiring them to close at 5:30 p.m. and all day Wednesday was given third reading.

The market this fall, I feel will be excellent for 2 and 3-bedroom or more older homes. In the price range from $10,000 to $16,000. As we told you earlier in the year the trend is back to the older and more established districts with lower taxes and comfortable family homes. This has been born out by our increased sales of this type of property. The market for the larger 2 to 3-year-old FHA homes which originally sold for $14,000 to $15,000 and are now priced at between $17,000 to $18,000 has slowed considerably. This has been brought about by the larger down payments now needed to pay the increased equity, and the profit which buyers are going to have to realize the day of free rent and a profit for a couple of years of living in a home are fast coming to an end.

DETAILS VAGUE

Exactly what occurred Saturday afternoon and evening was not fully reconstructed by police because of Mrs. Mudge's condition and the fact she is believed to have been unconscious much of the time.

It was thought Mrs. Mudge was the first to be attacked. She was in the kitchen of her home and her father was watching television in the living room.

They had been shopping and her husband and the 16-year-old had returned from a morning bird-hunting trip.

PICKING TOMATOES

Police said Mrs. Mudge told them her husband went outside to pick some tomatoes and was going to help her can them when she was ready.

She was reported to have said she would call Mr. Mudge when she was finished working in the kitchen. She told police she was putting away groceries, but police said the groceries were still sitting out in the kitchen when they investigated.

Police suggested she may have been washing dishes. Something happened; she did not know what.

HIT OVER HEAD

Apparently she was struck over the head with a bottle. There was a broken milk bottle scattered around the sink area and other bottle fragments in the kitchen.

The next thing Mrs. Mudge knew she was being dragged naked down the basement steps, police said.

She heard her husband groan, police said, and turned to look toward the ground-level basement entrance where she saw her husband lying on his side with one arm outstretched.

ALREADY DEAD

At that time, police believe, Mr. Mudge had been shot and Mr. Brand was already dead. Whether the husband's other injuries, apparently from a severe beating about the head with a heavy instrument, were already inflicted was not determined.

When found by police at 8:50 p.m., Mr. Mudge appeared to have been dead for a considerable time.

He lay in a pool of drying blood and more blood was found on a concrete apron where his station wagon was parked just outside the basement door.

Some blood had run into a drain grating and more was over the basement door sill as though the killer had dragged Mr. Mudge inside after the shooting.

ON KNEES

A rifle bullet entered his chest below the left shoulder, as if he may have been on his knees when shot. His head was battered. A carpenter's claw-bar was found nearby.

Mr. Brand was found sitting on a chesterfield a little distance from the wall in the living room, facing the television set. The doorway was over his right shoulder and a little to the side.

He was shot in the head as if the killer stood in the doorway and fired from behind him.

Most of the house bore evidence of violence. Insp. G. A. Gerrie, officer commanding Victoria RCMP subdivision, commented:

"You could pretty well say the whole house with the exception of the living room and dining room was blood-smeared."

It appeared a struggle had taken place in the front bedroom. Police found there a water basin, suggesting the attacker had planned to clean up some of the bloodstains.

PHONE TORN OUT

The telephone had been torn from its connection.

Several items of women's clothing, including a housecoat, shoes and purse, were picked up and held by police.

Mrs. Mudge told police her attacker was planning to take her away with him in her husband's dark blue, half-ton pickup truck.

When her assailant went back up the basement stairs to turn off the house lights she made her escape toward the Neil house wearing an old coat.

CRAWL TO DOOR

She stumbled the 50-to-75 yards through a corral-type

fence, then desperately broke off one board and part of another on a second fence before crawling through to her neighbor's front door.

The Neils said she was hysterical and unrecognizable at first because of her swollen, blood-caked features.

They said Mrs. Mudge told them her attacker drove off in the truck, apparently not knowing which way Mrs. Mudge had run for help.

Road blocks were set up at all key points on Vancouver Island Saturday night and were maintained until the pickup was made at about 1 p.m. Sunday 18 miles west of Shawnigan Lake on the road to Port Renfrew.

The truck was spotted driving slowly east and was overtaken by a car containing hunters Nick Sawchuk and George Simpson of Victoria, who heard a description of the fugitive truck on a radio broadcast.

TOOK LICENCE

They took its licence number and the truck speeded up to pass them when an RCMP patrol was encountered.

Members of Duncan RCMP detachment were in the car and were watching for the truck on a tip from a man at Port Renfrew who said he saw a similar vehicle driven by a boy Sunday noon.

The truck shot off the road and overturned. Its 16-year-old occupant, who carried a knife, was brought immediately to Colwood detachment, arriving about 2:30.

When the police car drew up to the rear door of the detachment, the boy sat in the back seat, his head sagging. He seemed to be in a stupor and had to be told to get out of the car.

SHOCKING SIGHT

When he slowly stepped out and straightened a little, he was a shocking sight.

Blood had coursed down his face, neck and shirt from the top of his wild, tousled hair. Dirt and more blood covered his hands and arms. There was dirt on his face and bloodstains on his faded, old blue jeans.

The boy apparently wore the same clothes he had worn the night before; they matched a description given to all police departments shortly after 9 p.m. Besides shoes, his only other outer clothing was a faded red and grey tartan shirt.

RCMP GUARD

After a few minutes the boy was taken in the same police car to DVA Hospital, where he was admitted. A uniformed RCMP guard was left with him.

During the trip in from the scene of the crash the boy had said nothing except in answer to the police question, "How are you making out?" There was no other conversation, an officer said.

Identification experts from Victoria subdivision began going through the Mudge house in search of evidence Saturday night and continued Sunday afternoon and this morning.

HOUSE CLOSED

The house meanwhile was closed and an RCMP guard placed on it and the property. The general investigation was carried on through the night and police officers who had gone on duty Saturday morning were still working Sunday evening.

One of the items turned up by a search of the grounds Sunday was what appeared to be a flattened lead bullet, lying in grass near a grove of evergreens several feet from the rear basement door.

The 16-year-old, described as a polite boy who loved to walk in the woods, hunt and fish, owned four rifles and a shotgun, all of which were accounted for in his basement room.

There were apparently no other firearms in the house.

An RCMP tracking dog was brought to Colwood from Burnaby by Cpl. Ian Hall and kept standing ready in case a search of the bush was organized by police.

The teen-age boy was described by those who were acquainted with him as a quiet boy.

'NICE KID'

"I took him to school every day last term and he was as nice a kid as I've ever seen," said J. A. Sjöberg, 3483 Metchoshin, directly opposite the Mudge house.

"He was polite . . . a hard worker. He was always working around there."

"I was out all afternoon until six o'clock Saturday, but my wife and kids were home. They heard nothing."

"The first we heard was when a neighbor came over and told us this (Sunday) morning. "He was quite a smart boy. I thought he was a darn nice kid."

A 16-year-old school acquaintance—a member of the same grade 10 class he attended at school—said "I used to live with him."

The friend said his mother and father kept him for three weeks until Mr. and Mrs. Mudge moved into the Metchoshin Road house.

"He used to go down there to work everyday when he lived at our place," the boy said.

He said the boy told him Friday at school he planned to go hunting Sunday. He described the boy as "friendly with everybody" and likeable.

Mudge was described today as a "good worker and a reliable one" by his employer.

John Wallace, general manager of Yarrow's shipyard, said Mr. Mudge had been with the company 10 years.

"He started as timekeeper and worked his way up," Mr. Wallace told The Times.

ber, and it was the one sent out by the police.

"We passed the truck very slowly, and had a good look, and then, when we were ahead, we stopped the car."

DRIVER SCARED

"I guess the driver of the truck became scared. He apparently hit the gas pedal with a heavy foot, and shot past going at least 60 miles an hour. We took out after him."

"I'll admit I was nervous. I don't know about George, but I thought about a kid with a gun. But then, we were hunting, and we had guns, too."

"We tore along the road for a short time when suddenly, coming from the other direction, we saw an RCMP patrol car."

OUT OF CONTROL

"The truck driver must have seen it, too. I guess he panicked. He took to the ditch, on the left hand side of the road, and the truck went out of control."

"It must have bounced 100 feet through the air. It banged against a pile of logs."

"We stopped the car and ran to the truck, with two RCMP officers from the patrol car."

"The young driver was inside. He was cut and bleeding. He had a gash across his throat. He must have hit the windshield. We had to pry open the door to get him out."

"He was semi-conscious. But he was able to walk to the RCMP car."

BLOODY KNIFE

"The back seat of the patrol car was filled with hunting signs. The officers must have been on hunting patrol duty. We moved the signs into our car to take them to the detachment headquarters, so there would be room in the car for the young man."

"He was slightly built. He had on a pair of khaki trousers over a pair of blue jeans."

"I did not see a gun in the car, but there was a hunting knife. It had blood on it. I understand the RCMP are having the blood analyzed."

and Bell Telephone Company contend that they must provide for the future liability which results from deferring the payment of a portion of the taxes. Otherwise their ability to raise new capital for expansion and improvement would be seriously endangered, officials said.

Unable to get increased rates, on the basis of tax deferral, the Bell Company has now filed a new application for increased rates to enable it to pay its taxes in full each year, in which case no liability is created. The B.C. Telephone Company has now followed suit.

SEATS APLENTY FOR KINSMEN BINGO TONIGHT

There will be plenty of seats available for the Kinsmen's bingo bonanza tonight.

To date, 5,700 tickets have been sold, which leaves another 3,000 which can be purchased at the entrance to the Memorial Arena from 7 p.m. until bingo starts at 8 p.m.

The "mystery" guest arrived Sunday on schedule and was dined and shown Victoria by Kinsmen officials after "a long trip from another country."

enthusiasm," he said, urging that the conference keynote be "an expanding Commonwealth as a dynamic partnership in an expanding world community."

But as the first plenary session of the biggest Commonwealth economic meeting in a quarter-century opened, there were many indications that both Canada and Britain would have no easy time of it. The two countries were considered among the Commonwealth's wealthiest members. Low-income earners were looking to them for assurances and help.

New Zealand, which relies heavily on her dairy exports, launched an indirect attack against Canada's dairy import embargoes, warning that curbs against Canadian exports may result.

FARMERS SUFFERING

"Agricultural protectionism has severely damaged New Zealand," said Finance Minister A. H. Nordmeyer. "It has depressed the income of our farmers. It has deprived New Zealand of many millions of pounds which she requires to buy her imports."

Spokesman after spokesman told of how economic recession had depressed prices of their main products, in most cases raw materials absorbed by the wealthier buyers inside and outside the Commonwealth. They urged that price agreements be developed, to assure producers of steady markets.

"We are living under a shadow of a recession," said Sir Henry Lee, Malaya's finance minister. "For us the central issues are revival of demand in commodity trade, stabilization of internal income and export earnings from that trade and attraction of development capital from abroad."

For India, the most critical need was capital, loans and grants. Said Mr. Desai: "For India and for the newly independent members of the Commonwealth, the raising of living standards of the people, diversification of their economies and attainment of higher levels of production and employment are crucial."

West Indies' Dr. C. G. D. La Crobiniere, deputy prime minister, said The Federation wants "more and steadier markets for its produce, more capital for development, more trade, particularly with members of the Commonwealth—in sum, opportunity for earnings and for paying our way."

Ceylon's Finance Minister Stanley de Zoysa said the conference, even if it produces no concrete results, may provide a lesson for the big powers in handling problems with understanding.

"We shall have shown the way to the nations of the world playing precariously with problems which must lead to the ultimate questions—will man in the end destroy mankind or rise to the full stature that his Maker intended him to rise to . . . ?"

Formation of a Commonwealth development bank was recommended by Ghana.

Finance Minister K. A. Gbedemah said he hopes delegates will devote "considerable attention" to creating a Commonwealth bank.

Such an institution would fill a great gap in the facilities available to underdeveloped countries.

U.S. Envoy Hopeful Of Talks with China

WARSAW (Reuters) — U.S. Ambassador Jacob D. Beam and Communist China envoy Wang Ping-nan met today to discuss the Formosa Straits crisis.

Beam told reporters "I hope the discussions will lead to constructive results."

As they met to trade words, the Chinese Communists and Nationalists traded shells in the Formosa Strait.

Heartened by their first success in piercing the Communist artillery curtain around Quemoy, the Nationalists assembled another convoy to supply the besieged island fortress.

The Nationalists announced the first sizeable amounts of supplies in a week got through to the Quemoy Islands Sunday by sea and air with U.S. escorts.

U.S. and Nationalist spokesmen announced American Air Force planes flew protective cover for the Quemoy supply operations.

PARACHUTE SUPPLIES

Nationalist transports also parachuted supplies to the island complex nestling near the mainland for the first time since the Communists tightened their blockade early this month.

The Nationalists also stepped up their propaganda war against the Peiping government. The Nationalist air force said its planes dropped millions of leaflets on the mainland Sunday in 12 provinces, including Hoped where the Communist capital of Peiping is located.

Communist China in turn issued a charge that President Eisenhower's Formosa policy amounts to a "thundering bluff."

The official Communist newspaper, the Peiping People's Daily declared that Eisenhower's "thundering" over the Formosa crisis was aimed at bluffing his own people and his allies.

In an editorial replying to the president's speech to the nation last Thursday, the newspaper said American "provocations" in the Formosa Strait created an extremely dangerous situation.

Peiping radio reported Sunday that tens of millions of newly enlisted militiamen are under active drilling all over Red China.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru said that a war over the Chinese offshore islands would be "totally indefensible."

Referring to India's policy that Formosa and the offshore islands should pass under the control of the Peiping government, Nehru told the House of the People (lower house of Parliament): "We have always said and hoped that this change would take place peacefully."

The present occupation of the islands by the Chinese Nationalists was an "intolerable position," he added.

Britain today officially rejected Red China's action extending her territorial waters to 12 miles as invalid.

The British rejection was contained in a note delivered to the Peiping government Saturday, a foreign office spokesman said.

away and we hear hundreds of shots.

"The house was like a dead place all afternoon. There were no lights on and I wondered why they weren't busy about getting supper. Then I saw the boy drive away in the truck."

"It was so damned quiet," Grey-haired Mrs. Neil, worried-looking but neat in green sweater and green tartan slacks, said she noticed the Mudge's black Labrador dog Mack sitting on the front step looking into the bedroom window of the Mudge house (where the attack on Mrs. Mudge took place), at 4 p.m.

"Funny, he's never done that before. I remember thinking it was unusual."

Mr. Neil said the assailant may have wrapped Mrs. Mudge in the coat before she regained consciousness, "because he was obviously going to take her with him. Then I suppose he panicked when he saw she had disappeared from the basement steps and drove away alone."

"The keys were probably left in the truck (a 1951 model Fargo half-ton) after Chuck and the boy who was living with them came back after hunting all afternoon."

"The Neils said they knew the boy taken into custody by police at 1 p.m. Sunday 'only just enough to pass the time of day.' "He didn't talk much. Sometimes he'd pass you in the street if you didn't speak first."

A boy aged 16 was placed in the Mudge's care in May. He was a ward of the provincial child welfare department.

Child welfare superintendent Miss Ruby McKay asked the Family and Children's Service of Greater Victoria Community Chest to find a home for the boy and he was placed in the care of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Douglas, who were living at 3460 Metchoshin.

ASKED TO RETURN

In April the Douglases moved to Tucson, Ariz., so the boy was moved to another home nearby. Later, however, he asked to return to 3460 Metchoshin, now occupied by the Muges who had bought the house and grounds for $5,000 from the Douglases.

David Woodworth, executive director of the Family and Children's Service, said Sunday one of his workers checked with the Muges only last Friday to find out how the boy was getting along, and was told he was "doing well."

"They (the Muges) said he was very pleasant, co-operative and helpful around the home."

"The boy earned $1 a day working with the Muges—helping to dig a well and putting up fences."

"He worked very hard," said Mr. Neil. "Just like a beaver. We always remarked on it."

ONE FRIEND

The boy apparently had only one friend, a boy, and no girl friends. He owned five guns, which he kept in his bedroom—two .22 calibre, two .30.06 and a shotgun.

The slayings were committed in a white stucco ranch-style house in well-kept

Tenement Fire Takes 7 Lives

'Arithmetic of Death' Recounted By Grief-Stricken Immigrants

OTTAWA (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Butz lost the last four of their seven children in a tenement fire here Saturday. Seven persons in all died.

Mrs. Butz saw one of her children slaughtered when the Russians entered East Germany in 1945, before the family emigrated to Canada in 1953. Another child born during the Second World War died when it was three weeks old. The seventh starved to death during the lean war years.

The mother, 39-year-old Anneliese Butz, and Mr. Butz, 45, were on the verge of collapse as they gave the arithmetic of death that has been their lives.

CAN'T START AGAIN

"We cannot start over again," said Auguste Butz, burying his head in his wife's lap.

Their last four children—23-month-old twin girls, Louise and Marlene, and two other girls, Eva Marie and Marie Anne, aged nine and 10, died Saturday along with a visiting neighbor's child, five-year-old Nancy Heron, in the Butz's third-floor apartment.

Mrs. Jean Delaney, 32, trapped on a second-floor veranda along with James Barrigar, 42, as flames poured out of the building around them, died in hospital.

Barrigar died in hospital of third-degree burns.

Persons in the crowd on the street said they saw the children's gaunt faces staring from the third-floor windows. They could do nothing to help. Some spectators cried or turned away their faces.

Huddled on Floor

Four of the children's bodies later were found huddled on the floor, and the fifth bundled under a mattress and blankets.

The fire was believed to have started in a ground-floor kitchen. Cause has not yet been established.

Three Injured When Car Jumps Lochside Drive

Three people were treated at Rest Haven Hospital, Sidney, for injuries received when their car left Lochside drive at 1 a.m. Saturday near Sidney.

John Rothery, 46, of Sidney, described by police as driver of the car, was believed to have broken ribs.

Passengers W. E. Gordon, Sidney, with a cut elbow, and Victoria Dry, Sidney, with abrasions and a small laceration, were treated and released.

Police said their car went off the left side of the road, scraped an embankment and was spun around to face in nearly the opposite direction. Damage was estimated at $600.

I was a sleepless wreck

My nerves grated from lack of sleep. Indigestion bothered me. I felt jittery, depressed, drained of all ambition and energy.

Some people suffer unpleasantness because their systems are aggravated by elements in everyday beverages. This is particularly true of those with "nervous" temperaments.

While some people can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without harm, others cannot.

Postum does not contain stimulants such as caffeine, theophylline or theobromine which can rob you of sleep, irritate your nerves, speed up pulse with subsequent depressing let-down. Postum does not contain tannin to give you indigestion, nor any other ingredient to cause you harm.

Switch to Instant Postum, the new Postum. It has the same Postum taste and acts like no other beverage. Postum has its own distinctive flavor. Make Postum instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water, or hot milk, stir and enjoy.

NEGRO SHOT BY POLICE

ATLANTA (AP)—A Negro man was killed by police Saturday night when a large group of Negroes stormed a police car in an unsuccessful effort to take a prisoner from police custody.

Mr. Butz had been at work in a uranium mine at Elliot Lake, 450 miles northwest of Ottawa, and did not learn of the deaths until he had been brought to Ottawa Sunday morning.

Mrs. Butz at the time of the fire was at work at an Ottawa restaurant. A babysitter was to arrive to look after the children shortly after the fire broke out.

MENTAL TESTS FOR 8-YEAR-OLD

Youth Cleared of Knife Slayings

NEW YORK (AP)—An 18-year-old youth, William Fletcher, apparently was cleared Saturday of any suspicion in the Staten Island knife slayings of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Nimer, but was charged with stealing two suitcases in Brooklyn. This action returned the spotlight to eight-year-old Melvin Nimer Jr., who, after first telling police a masked intruder slew his parents, claimed he did it with a kitchen knife. The boy now is undergoing mental tests. Authorities have said the boy's account generally coincides with the known facts in the case, but they still are seeking more positive evidence. As a result, no charge has been placed against him.

Saanich Youth Killed In Hunting Accident

Mistaken for Deer By Brother-In-Law

A Saanich 14-year-old on his first hunting trip was shot to death Saturday by his brother-in-law in Vancouver Island's first 1958-59 hunting season fatality.

Timothy Wayne Heal, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hugh Heal, 821 Vernon, is believed to have been killed instantly with a shot in the head fired by William Fluskey, 858 Old Esquimalt, near Sooke at 2:45 p.m.

Fluskey said he fired at what he thought was the head of a deer in a fern bed a quarter of a mile north of the Grouse Nest Lodge immediately west of Gillespie Road.

"I saw what looked like the point of a deer and a brown patch below it. I shot just below the horn," he said.

DIDN'T KNOW

He said he did not know his brother-in-law was in the same patch of fern.

Police said Fluskey was using a .303 army rifle converted to a sporting rifle.

Mr. Heal said his son, who had been with him as Fluskey started through the fern bed, also began walking through the ferns near the same end.

The father said he stood on a rock outcrop watching his son. They both knew Fluskey was in the heavy growth, Mr. Heal said.

The party was on its way home when they decided Fluskey would go into the bed.

"I said to him I'd go a little higher. Maybe he thought I was going up higher than I did. The boy was with me before going into the ferns," Mr. Heal said.

The father said although it

New Look Sought For Labor Laws

By HAL MALONE

B.C.'s industrial cold war probably could be resolved if labor and management placed the public ahead of their own interests, a representative of management said today.

To achieve this peace, E. L. Harrison, vice-president, industrial relations, B.C. Packers Ltd., called for a "second look" at existing labor legislation. He reiterated recommendations made by the B.C. Chamber of Commerce to the provincial cabinet Friday.

They called for elimination of conciliation boards "because we believe there is better opportunity to settle industrial disputes if we do not have boards dealing in the principle of compromise," and "holding both parties responsible for the faithful observance of the terms of an agreement once reached."

"The chamber," he said, "believes good industrial relations cannot be created by legislation. To the extent that legislation is necessary it should be designed to ensure a proper balance of right and responsibility by both parties with due regard at all times to the public interest."

UNREASONABLE

The chamber, he said, is opposed to any legislation which permits either side to acquire or exercise unreasonable power over either group or the public.

The chamber's brief also suggested the Trade Union's Act be rewritten so unions will be considered as legal entities, responsible for their actions.

Mr. Harrison pointed to the longshore tie-up as leaving B.C. "economically dead."

"If there was ever a strike contrary to the public interest this is it."

UNTOLD HARM

He said the coastal steamship tie-up resulting from the SIU dispute "did untold harm to the economy of B.C." and particularly to those on Vancouver Island.

Esquimalt Sailor Killed As Car Speeds Off Dock

An Esquimalt-based sailor drowned Sunday at 7:30 a.m. when he drove a car at high speed off the end of the government wharf at Cowichan Bay.

Dead is PO William G. Hutcheson, 27, of HMCS Ontario.

Witnesses estimated the car was driven along the dock at speeds estimated as high as 70 miles per hour, and actually seemed to speed up as it approached the end of the dock.

It rammed a 12-inch square timber guard rail across the end of the dock, then flipped in the air before striking the water.

The car had been rented from Dickson Bros. Garage & U-Drive Ltd., 813 Douglas Street, and is a total loss to the firm.

TOTAL LOSS

"We had fire, theft, collision, public liability and property damage insurance," a company spokesman said today, "but there is no insurance one can get to protect a car that is driven off a dock."

"I was told by a woman who saw the accident happen that the car went down the wharf like a jet," he said.

Hutcheson had been seen with a girl in the Duncan area Saturday night, and it is understood she was with him just a few minutes before the accident, when the car was towed from a ditch. Police were on hand at the time.

After the tragedy it was learned that the girl was safe at her home.

Hutcheson is survived by the widow in Australia. Arrangements for an inquest are pending.

Two city constables attending the scene of an accident Sunday afternoon were themselves involved in an accident on the spot.

Constables Richard Ward and Laurie Belfry were sideswiped by a car driven by Grace F. Robertson, 1410 Andrew, which was going east on Pandora.

Cons. Belfry was hit first and his left elbow injured; then brakes were applied and the car was in collision with Cons. Ward, standing about 20 feet away. He was pinned against the side of a parked car.

Cons. Ward suffered possible rib fractures.

Heirloom Diamond Worn by Bride As 'Something Old' at Wedding

An heirloom diamond engagement ring presented to the groom's mother in 1902 by his grandfather who had hand made and designed it, was worn by lovely bride Miss Barbara Mary Hawkes at her wedding Saturday night.

She was united in marriage with James Montague Little, in a ceremony in St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Mount Newton Cross Road.

Rev. O. L. Foster officiated. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Hawkes of Moss Street and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matthew Little of Cedar Hill Road.

White and blush pink chrysanthemums decorated the church.

For her marriage the dark-haired bride chose a floor-length taffeta faille gown en train.

Styled with classic simplicity, the gown was fashioned with a billowing skirt extending from a "swag" draped front piece caught up at the back to form a bustle. A picture neckline enhanced the fitted bodice, trimmed with Gulpure lace. Her chapel-length veil misted from an appliqued taffeta bandeau, and she carried a cascade of white roses and green ivy. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She was given in marriage by her father.

Imperial blue dresses were worn by bridesmaids Miss Joan Sutherland and Miss Judy Murphy. The gowns were identically styled on princess lines, featuring bouffant skirts with a wide panel at the back, caught up under the hem to give a pouffe effect. They had matching fabric bandeaus and carried bouquets of carnations, gardenias and ivy.

David Watkins was best man and ushers were Murray Little and Richard Little.

Robert P. Hawkes proposed the toast at a reception in Brenta Lodge following the wedding.

A three-tier cake, baked by mother of the groom, centred the bridal table. It was flanked by candles and pink and white chrysanthemums.

Peter Dawe, soloist, sang "O Promise Me" with Miss Merle Emery as accompanist.

Mother of the bride wore a blue lace sheath style ensemble for the wedding. Her accessories were in rose and she had a corsage of rapture roses. Deep turquoise tones were in the gown worn by the groom's mother. Her accessories were beige and she had a corsage of pink roses.

Speak Vows At Naden

White embossed nylon formed the gown worn by bride Miss Gracia Celia Carlsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Griffiths, for her wedding recently to Terence William Seal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Seal of Calgary.

St. Andrew's Chapel, HMCS Naden, was the setting for the ceremony conducted by Rev. W. R. Dalton. Traditional wedding music was played by organist Lt. T. Kady, RCN.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her three-quarter-length gown was fashioned with neckline and cap sleeves of turquoise silk taffeta. Her Juliet cap of lace held her misty veil and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli centred with pink roses and sweet peas.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Heather Griffiths, wore a turquoise and blue silk taffeta dress. Her headdress was a bandeau of silk leaves en tone. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white roses and mauve and white asters.

Frank Labute was best man and usher was William Greenwood.

Miniature china angels and pink flowers decorated the bridal table on which stood the two-tier cake at the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Newnham on Kingston Street. Raymond Grice proposed the toast.

An imported beige wool suit with brown accessories and a cloche in autumn gold silk straw, were worn by the bride for her wedding trip to California. She had a rosebud corsage.

The couple will make their home at 1420 Dallas Road.

MURDER CHARGE LAID AGAINST YOUTH OF 16

40 KILLED AS TRAIN PLUNGES FROM BRIDGE

New Attempt On Phone Hike

B.C. Telephone Company has applied to the Board of Transport Commissioners for a 17.6 per cent increase in exchange service rates, and an average 5.1 per cent increase in long distance rates.

The company claims the increase is needed to provide the revenue required for a payment of income taxes in full each year, instead of on a deferred basis.

It will mean a boost of from 50 to 85 cents per month on phone bills for homes in the Victoria area.

UP 12.6 PER CENT

The requested rates would increase the total annual revenues of the company by $5,754,000, or 12.6 per cent.

A heated protest against the rate increase was voiced today by Mayor Percy Scurrell, who said he was "amazed" to learn that the B.C. Telephone was asking for the increase.

"You sure can expect the city will come out fighting," he said. The mayor said he will call a meeting of the Greater Victoria Inter-Municipal Committee to discuss a joint protest.

Only in July the board authorized the company to increase its exchange and long-distance rates by an average of 2.94 per cent.

NOVEMBER HEARING

It has announced that a public hearing will be held in Vancouver Nov. 17 to discuss the new application.

The increase would be used largely for payment of income taxes, but also would cover the effect of a full year's wage increases.

Following are examples of present and proposed monthly rates for the Greater Victoria area, with present rates in brackets.

VICTORIA—Residence: Individual (4.65) 5.50, two-party (3.70) 4.30, multi-party (3.20) 3.70. Business: Individual (10.00) 13.30, measured (6.35) 8.00, multi-party (5.60) 7.45.

The Income Tax Act permits a utility company to defer temporarily payment of part of its taxes, which enables it to use this money for capital purposes.

However, the cabinet ruled this year that any revenues set aside by a company to cover payment of the deferred income taxes later on could not be considered as an expense for rate-making purposes.

This applies to only those companies coming under the jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners. The B.C. Telephone Company and the Bell Telephone Company of Canada are therefore subject to this ruling.

NOT INCLUDED

Companies under other regulatory bodies, such as the Public Utilities Commission of British Columbia, are not subject to this ruling, and the full amount of income tax, including the amount set aside for future payment, is allowed as a cost for rate-making purposes.

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP)

— A Jersey Central commuter train roared through an open drawbridge today and plunged 50 feet into Newark Bay. Railway officials estimated at least 40 persons died. Twenty-one others were reported injured.

The five-car train had started from Bay Head, a north New Jersey shore resort, and was headed for Jersey City, where passengers board ferries for downtown New York.

Its two diesel locomotives and first two passenger cars fell from the open span and were immediately submerged in more than 40 feet of oily water.

A third car was left hanging dizzily, half in the water and half out. But 2½ hours later, it, too, slipped completely beneath the surface.

BODIES RECOVERED

By early afternoon, 13 bodies were recovered, mostly by skin divers.

One man was recovered alive from the murky bay but was dead on arrival at Bayonne hospital.

The first passenger coach was empty—a "deadhead." In all, the train was believed to be carrying 90 to 100 passengers.

The entire bridge is about 1½ miles long and spans the main channel of Newark Bay between southwestern Staten Island and New Jersey.

The raised drawbridge section is a horizontal span about 200 feet long. It had been opened this morning to allow a sand barge to pass below.

Hunters Chase Wanted Truck Until Crash

By MONTE ROBERTS

Two Victoria hunters with their eyes alert for deer on Sunday found instead the pickup truck sought by police in connection with the double-killing at Metchosin Saturday.

Nick Sawchuk, owner of Capital Cleaners, and George Simpson, machinist at HMC Dockyard, were driving east from Port Renfrew toward Shawnigan Lake shortly after noon when they heard a description of the truck on the car radio.

Said Mr. Sawchuk today: "It seemed only a few minutes before we rounded a long curve and there, ahead of us, was a truck."

"It was not going very fast, and we approached and passed it."

SLAIN MAN, WIFE

Recent snapshot of murdered man, Charles Mudge, and his wife Phyllis, shows them in holiday mood. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Mudge was beaten, her husband and father shot dead by an assailant at their home.

ESCAPE ROUTE

Chase Ends in Smash After Twin-Slaying

By AB KENT

A 16-year-old boy befriended by a highly respected Metchosin family was charged with murder today in the vicious slaying of two of them.

Dead are Charles Mudge, 38, and his father-in-law John Brand, 70. Mrs. Mudge, attractive 28-year-old wife of Charles, is in St. Joseph's Hospital in "good" condition, after being brutally assaulted.

The boy, a ward of the Children's Aid Society who had lived with the Mudges and Brand for four months, was arrested by RCMP after Mr. Mudge's truck he was driving crashed off the Renfrew Road behind Shawnigan Lake on Sunday afternoon.

Under provisions of the Criminal Code governing juveniles the name of the boy has not been made public. Mr. Mudge, paymaster at Yarrows shipyard, and Mr. Brand apparently were stalked at their home at 3460 Metchosin Road.

Mrs. Mudge, escaped from the blood-splattered house several hours after the shooting. The youth is under police guard at DVA Hospital where he was taken dazed and bleeding from head and neck cuts received when the truck he drove off the Port Renfrew Road when he saw a police car approaching, overturned. Police said he was "fairly good" today.

It was among the most shocking crimes remembered in this area.

The secluded, pleasant white home was turned into a scene of carnage as if by a crazed person.

The murders brought to three the total slayings in Greater Victoria in a week's time, and to four the number in Victoria-Gulf Islands area since Aug. 10.

Naval seaman Aaron H. Jenkins, 23, of Codys, N.B., was stabbed to death in his bunk at HMCS Naden last Saturday and Albert Kerr, 56, North Pender Island, was shot to death in his home Aug. 10.

CAKED WITH BLOOD

The Metchosin killings are believed to have happened about 2 p.m. Saturday, but were not brought to light until Mrs. Mudge, weeping only a coat, her eyes blackened, badly bruised, and face caked with blood from a gash on the top of her head, stumbled into the living room of neighbors at 8.40 p.m.

She gasped out to Mr. and Mrs. William Neil and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Harvie, that her husband and father had been shot dead and pleaded with them to turn out their house lights and lock the doors for protection.

They called Colwood RCMP, who were on the scene within minutes to start an investigation which lasted through the night and most of Sunday.

Fleeing Woman Shattered Fence

By DAVID COWLISHAW and TONY DICKASON

Angry horror still showing plainly on her face, 70-year-old Mrs. Mary McQueen Neil placed her coffee cup on the table, walked across the room and stood staring out on the grounds at back of the home of Charles Mudge at 3460 Metchosin Road, Colwood.

"See that broken railing," she said, pointing to a five-foot high fence that had been shattered at the top and now leaned crazily to one side. "That's where she stumbled last night. The poor thing, she must have been confused. She must have been out of her mind with fear."

It was into the Neil home immediately behind the red-roofed white Mudge house that Mr. Mudge's 28-year-old wife Phyllis staggered at 8.40 p.m. Saturday.

Unclothed save for an old striped-housecoat, she ran the 75 yards separating the two houses after escaping from the person who stripped her while unconscious, after her husband and father had been killed.

Mrs. Neil and her 70-year-old husband, retired butcher Wil-

'She Just Sat in Chair, Bleeding'

"She wouldn't lie down," they said. "She just sat in her chair, bleeding all the time." Mrs. Neil said Mrs. Mudge was almost incoherent, but told them she had been standing at the kitchen sink washing dishes about 2 p.m. Saturday when she was hit over the head, apparently by a bottle. Then she passed out.

"She said when she came to," Mrs. Neil went on, "she was being dragged down the basement steps. She was completely nude. She said her attacker tried to assault her. She was a very attractive woman, you know, very pretty. And so kind."

side door toward the Neil home. Mrs. Joan Harvie, 65-year-old wife of a Victoria commissionaire, 3314 Metchosin, was visiting her friends the Neils when Mrs. Mudge stumbled into the house.

"There was a noise. It sounded like a whimper. Then this poor thing came in. I thought she was wearing a mask, there was so much red on her face. I thought it was paint, but it must have been blood, I suppose. I hadn't the slightest idea who she was until she told us about the killings. She said 'he' had beaten her up. It was a greatful."

Mr. Neil said, "She must have grabbed the coat, got up and run for our place." He added that he heard a shot about 5 p.m. but "I didn't think much about it because the Victoria Gun Club isn't very far Continued on Page 2

Pleas for Aid Open Trade Meet

MONTREAL (CP)—Anguished cries for capital and calls for a defence against falling raw material prices were heard as the Commonwealth met today to build up its resources and fight against the Soviet trade offensive.

The plea of need ran like a thread through the statements read by finance ministers of underdeveloped areas as the big 300-delegate trade and economic conference opened in the luxurious Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

"Neither the world nor the Commonwealth can continue to march forward if some countries and their people have nothing but poverty and stagnation to look forward to," said Finance Minister Morarji Desai of India.

Finance Minister Fleming, in taking over the chairmanship of the two-week meeting, urged the 11-country partnership to take heart. The countries of the Commonwealth, representing 660,000,000 people, possessed a "bountiful and varied share of the resources of the world."

The conference faced a challenge of rendering enduring service to the people represented. It was a challenging and sobering thought that for those people "what we do here may well affect, for better or for worse, the food they eat, the clothes they wear, and their way of life."

'Nigger-Hunt'

Youths Jailed

4 Years in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Nine young men who set out on a

"nigger-hunting expedition" which touched off the recent racial riots in London were each sentenced to four years in prison here today.

Passing sentence the judge at Old Bailey court said: "It was you men who started the whole

The youths, aged between 17

and 20, each pleaded guilty to wounding and assaulting Negroes. They were alleged to have attacked five men during what one of the youths' descri-

pedition."

The prosecution said this was "the very beginning" of the riots which swept the northwest

London area two weeks ago.

Mr. Justice Sir Cyril Salmon

minute and insignificant section of the population but you have brought shame upon the district in which you live and you have filled the whole nation with

gust."

color of their skin is entitled to walk through our streets in peace with their heads erect

always unflinchingly uphold."

Evidence was given that the
